Daly City Police Meet Hippies on Cloud Nine

The mystery of the Daly City "hippy happening," which did not happen, has finally been solved — thanks to the tireless efforts of the local police department and concerned city officials.

It seems (so the story goes) that police captain David Hansen, in his desire to create an air of realism to some riot training the department was scheduled to undergo, posted the following "realistic" release on the official station news board:

SUBJECT: Expected crowd conditions, New City Hall Site.

1. Information received indicates that a crowd of "hippies" will convene at the Civic Center at 1500 hours (3 p.m.) Saturday 3-11-67. The gathering has two purposes:

A) to disrupt normal business at Civic Center; and B) to protest the forthcoming National elections.

Captain Hansen's notice went on to point out anticipated trouble spots around the civic center and where squads of police would be deployed in case of trouble.

Three handdrawn maps of the Civic Center, showing the formations, were attached to the notice with suitable notations on the bottom of the page.

Hansen noted "it is coincidental and convenient that we have six squads of policemen assigned to the site at 1400 (2 p.m.) the same day (as the 'happening') for riot control practice. Therefore, we will not have to make special plans beyond those already made for training purposes.

"Should the crowd materialize, one squad of men will be assigned to the Sally Port (the ramp at the new civic center), near the top of the ramp," the notice said.

Several policemen queried about the disturbing notice went along with the "realism," adding few comments of their own, including: "How can those hippies disrupt business at city hall on Saturday? It's closed!"

What added to the mysterious protest march was the fact that national elections are not scheduled until 1968 and the city hall will not be completed until next May.

Nevertheless, a small band of determined reporters and cameramen converged on the site shortly before 3 p.m. to await the arrival of the "unwashed ones" from San Francisco's Haight-Ashbury district.

As the target hour passed with still no sign of the "hippies," police officials were asked to confirm the protest rally.

"What rally?" assistant chief Roy Beecher countered as he watched some 40 of Daly City's finest form a flying wedge to break up a hypothetical mob of hypothetical hippies.

Red-faced reporters exchanged glances with red-faced cameramen, while equally red-faced officials explained that the episode "was a misunderstanding," and the notice was meant to lend realism to the training.

"Break it up, break it up, break it up," the flying wedge of policemen screamed as they thrust their riot sticks at imaginary hippies.

Reporters and cameramen broke it up and left the "happening."

Collier Act Matching Funds Repeal Asked

D.C. Council Cites Law 'Inequities'

The Daly City Council Monday night adopted a resolution asking for repeal of the so-called "matching funds" clause in the Collier-Unruh Transportation Development Act.

"There are many inequities in the matching funds provisions of the act, and while these funds are now at a two to one ratio, they will eventually be on a one to one ratio," City Engr. Art Reschke told the council.

He said continued application of these matching funds could result in a city having to match gasoline tax funds with general revenues, with increased property taxes, or cutbacks in other essential city services.

The council's resolution requested the State Legislature to repeal the matching funds section of the act.

Several member cities of the League of California Cities have followed suit, issuing resolutions aimed at repeal of the act.

In other action Monday night, the council:

—Granted a use permit for a nursery school and day-care center at 205 San Fernando Way. The school is sponsored by the Cavalry Cross Community Church and is located in an R-1 (residential) area.

—Consented to the Planning Commission meeting monthly instead of every two weeks. Mayor Bernard Lycett said the commission met monthly until two years ago when they started meeting every two weeks because of the increased work load.

Beauties Register

With slightly more than a month to go before the gala Miss Daly City beauty contest preliminaries, four "beauties" have already registered at The Post.

Included in the growing list of entrants — one of which might walk off with the Miss Fiesta title at this year's county fair — are (top) Steph Sutton, a student at Westmoor High School (Business). She plans to attend Dental College next fall and thinks the contest will afford her the opportunity of meeting new people. Hobbies include swimming, dancing and she likes "all out of doors" sports. Steph is the 17-year-old daughter of Charles and Pauline Sutton.

Another Westmoor High School student (bottom) is Sandy Conlan (Commercial) who likewise thinks the contest will be a good experience "for any young girl." The daughter of Edwin and Elizabeth Conlan, Sandy's hobbies include dressmaking and bowling.

Two other girls have signed up for the pageant—Gayle A. Caldarella and Donna North — which will hold finals on May 4.

Pacifica Pushes Streets

Several resolutions authorizing proceedings on the proposed $750,000 Palmetto Avenue improvement district were adopted by the city council Wednesday night, including a resolution authorizing preliminary steps toward special assessments for the improvements.

The proposed Pacifica improvement district includes portions of Genevieve, Buena Way, Bonita Avenue, and Canyon Drive, and calls for street widening and resurfacing, curbing, and water and sewer line additions.

Area Bands Win Honors In Nevada

The University of Nevada gymnasium lay blanketed with mounds of snow but the snow didn't cool the sounds of the bands echoing inside.

Stage bands from five Western states made their ways through snow by plane, train, and bus to Reno, Nev., for the annual University of Nevada Stage Band Festival, and when the bands, which began playing on Thursday night, had finished Saturday night, the Westmoor High School Stage Band reigned divisional winners in the AAAA (over 2,000 enrollment) division.

In competition with such schools as Luther Burbank, Arroyo, and Castro Valley High Schools, the Westmoor Band had won.

The North Peninsula was well-represented by three schools, Westmoor, South San Francisco, and El Camino.

Request For A Variance Is Rejected

San Bruno councilmen turned down a request for a variance in the use permit for a controversial Skyline Boulevard-College Drive service station Monday.

Builder Perry Liebman asked the council to waive a stipulation in the permit which requires that a traffic light be installed at the intersection prior to construction of the station.

Liebman said State Highway authorities have informed him "it could be years" before the prescribed light is installed, and the property is useless in its present condition.

He said a left-turn lane will be added at the intersection on Skyline next summer and asked the council to "accept the highway department's promise of traffic signals and permit building of the station at this time."

'Whoosh'—A Ball of Fire As Gas Tanker Overturns

BURNING OVERPASS — Burning gasoline from Bayshore Freeway overpass in Brisbane dripped to northbound lanes Sunday afternoon after crash of truck carrying 8,200 gallons of volatile fluid. Traffic was cut off lanes as spilled fuel ran down the off ramp minutes later in a ribbon of blue-orange flames. Driver escaped overturned truck with minor injuries. (Post Photo)

Heroic Rookie Officer Commended, Pay Hiked

William Harold Martin, a rookie San Bruno policeman who pulled five children from an automobile stalled on the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks last week, was rewarded for his heroism with a resolution of commendation and an immediate increase in pay Monday night.

Mayor Karney Barberian and city councilmen voted to waive one year of Martin's probation period, thus immediately increasing his salary to the one-year service level.

The young policeman rescued four small children and a 13-year-old relative of Mrs. Mary Louise Navarro seconds before a Southern Pacific commuter smashed into the stalled automobile and killed Mrs. Navarro's car was trapped inside the barrier at the crossing and a line of cars backed up behind it. (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

Highway To Be Closed

Cabrillo Highway between Linda Mar and Montara will be closed for repairs every night for the next three weeks, the Division of Highways announced today.

Robert Jahrling, executive assistant, said the closing is necessary to allow heavy road equipment to repair recent landslides on the narrow and treacherous stretch in the Devil's Slide area.

Starting tonight, he said, the road will be closed each night from 7 o'clock to 6 a.m.

Newsman Observes Explosion

By FRANK LAPIERRE
Post Staff Writer

(Post staff reporter Frank LaPierre was driving north toward San Francisco on the Bayshore Freeway Sunday when a huge Shell Oil Company gasoline tanker flipped over and exploded on the Brisbane overpass exit. Here is his account of what happened following the crash—Editor.)

From less than a mile away the tanker seemed to lift clear off the ground, turn gently over and skid for several yards before resting quietly on its side.

Wispes of vapor rose in the air from the giant tractor and a small figure could be seen stumbling away from the wreckage as I pulled my car into the open area around the Highway Patrol weigh-in station at the foot of the Brisbane off-ramp.

Split seconds later, the rig convulsed with a "whoosh" and a mushroom of fire rocketed into the air, while an avalanche of flame rained down on the northbound lanes below the bridge. Cars swerved in every direction. (Please See Page 2, Column 7)

Board Curbs Travel

Travel by Jefferson Elementary School trustees has been barred pending establishment of a per diem scale by the State Legislature.

The sudden move came last week in the wake of what one trustee called "mounting unrest among the people" regarding past travel expenditures by board members.

Trustee Thomas Noonan introduced a motion at Tuesday's regular board meeting asking all travel performed by fellow trustees be stopped "for the sake of harmony among board members."

"I believe in harmony (on the board) and don't think comparisons should be made between each board members' expenses," Noonan said, referring to published reports of certain expenses in this newspaper over the past several months.

Certificated and non-certificated personnel may attend selected conferences, according to the motion.

A sharp exchange followed the announcement, between trustees Noonan and Peter Galiano.

"I don't recall anyone saying the board couldn't set a rate scale," Galiano charged. "And I doubt the wisdom of this move. We shouldn't put blinders on because of criticism from local (news) media."

"These attacks are personal and not like other types of criticism centering around school designs and educational policy," Noonan said.

"Why not let Mr. Noonan do what he wants—and let other board members look out for themselves," Galiano suggested.

Galiano first charged last October that certain travel expenditures within the district "were disturbing" and said a full scale review should be made.

For example: on a four-day conference trip to San Francisco (from Daly City) Galiano's expenses amounted to some $3.15; Noonan $157; trustee O. Wayne Douglas $150.25, and Lewkowicz $152.50.

Subsequently, the school district's Certified Public Accountant (CPA), in an annual report, called many of the expenses "unsubstantiated."

District Attorney Lois Scampini, counsel for the district, said a months-long investigation of school district expenditures "revealed no criminal misuse" of travel funds. She would not comment further on the CPA report.

To date, the JESD board refuses to discuss the ethics report publicized recently.

for a traffic light on the other side.

When the engine of the automobile stalled, the quick-thinking patrolman rushed to the vehicle and unstrapped a small child from a "kiddy chair," and assisted Mrs. Marvario in removing the other children from the car.

In the confusion, the mother apparently was unaware that all the children had been removed, and dashed back to the car as the train bore down upon it.

Martin, who is married and the father of one small child, has been with the department only six weeks.

"We are indeed fortunate to have a man of this young patrolman's caliber on our police force," Mayor Barberian said, "and we wish him to know that this splendid act of heroism has not gone unnoticed."

Gas Truck Crash —A Ball of Fire

direction in their effort to avoid the searing flames.

Miraculously, no one was involved in the fire or collision as a result of the wall of fire from above.

Fire units from South San Francisco and Brisbane converged on the bridge, sirens screaming, from two different directions and began the seemingly impossible task of fighting the inferno which by now was streaming down both sides of the ramp, into gutters and down the side slopes towards the Southern Pacific railroad tracks.

Using foam and water fog spray the firemen, assisted by volunteers, slowly battled their way towards the metal bulk laying near the center of the concrete span.

Asphalt bubbled and concrete chipped as flames continued to belch out of the broken truck. A small SP switch engine backed away from the area until firemen had knocked the flames down along the tracks.

A pall of thick, black smoke hung over Candlestick Park and the Bay as the truck fed the fire its volatile load.

Brisbane and South San Francisco firemen stood their ground and retreated only to shuttle back to their respective cities for more water and foam chemical used to smother the flames.

From as far away as Redwood City fire engines rolled to the scene, aiding the two main cities responsible—Brisbane and South San Francisco.

Some 37 firefighters and ten pieces of equipment combined to fight the blaze for more than two hours. The apparatus included pumps, tankers, and forestry trucks.

Miraculously, the driver, Robert L. Mitchell, 27, of San Francisco, escaped the blaze with only minor injuries. The $45,000 truck and its load were completely destroyed, while the bridge sustained severe damage and had to be temporarily closed pending inspection by highway engineers.

Mitchell told investigators he had only minutes before the accident at 4:35 p.m., left the Shell Oil Company yard at 515 South Airport Boulevard.

An estimated 5,000 Sunday motorists witnessed the crash and subsequent fire.

Background Of Trustee Candidates

Two incumbent trustees and one newcomer are vying for two San Bruno Park Elementary School Board seats in the election next month.

Eugene M. Rollins, appointed to the board last October, is seeking election to the post for the first time.

A personnel representative for United Air Lines, Rollins moved to San Bruno in 1964. He is a former teacher in the Los Angeles city schools, and holds a B. S. degree in education from the University of Southern California.

Rollins also did graduate work at Loyola University in Los Angeles, and has more than 12 years experience in education.

He has been active in Little League baseball, Boy Scout activities and P-TA, and is an officer of Blue Lakes Lodge 714, F. & A.M.

Rollins is married and has three children. His oldest son, Steven, is a junior at Crestmoor High School.

Also seeking re-election is incumbent trustee Harry F. Redlick, a teacher in the San Francisco city schools who has served on the board three-and-a-half years, and is the current president.

Redlick is a graduate of San Francisco State College, and has both an A.B. and M.A. degree in education.

He moved to San Bruno eight years ago.

Redlick is an Army veteran of the Korean War and a member of the San Bruno Lions' Club and a Merit Badge counselor for the San Mateo County Northern District.

"I am a candidate for re-election because I believe I have certain training, experience, and a genuine concern for education," the board president said.

"The quality of future generations is in large part determined by the quality of education we can offer to our young people. To economize in education is to impoverish the future," he said.

"It is in the light of these guiding principles that I have served for the past three and a half years, and stand ready to serve again, devoting my time and energy to this responsible and most-gratifying position of trust."

Redlick is married and has two children.

Insurance agent Warren Michael will attempt to unseat one of the two incumbent trustees.

Michael has been an active P-TA member in San Bruno for several years, and is a leader in youth groups in the city.

He received the "Dad of the Year" award for his work with the Pop Warner Football League last year. Michael also heads a Cub Scout troop.

"I entered this race because I am concerned over the growing lack of communication between children and adults," the candidate said, "and, if elected, I will work to bring parents and youngsters closer together."

Michael is a graduate of the University of California with a degree in business administration.

He is an Army veteran of World War II, a member of the Masonic Lodge, the National and Peninsula Associations of Life Underwriters, Alpha Delta Sigma professional fraternity, and the Parkview Terrace Homeowners' Association.

He has a daughter attending Capuchino High School.

Retired educator Beulah Elsberry, of 653 Florence Street, has started campaigning in Daly City. Miss Elsberry has

In the Bayshore Elementary District, incumbents David G. Barry Jr. and Ferdinand G. King are unopposed.

Four candidates have entered the Laguna Salada Union Elementary School District race. Candidates who have filed are Rex Butler, Stanley Farber, Sidney Lorvan, and Robert F. Sale.

Incumbents James M. Cooper and Lyal Ingersoll are running for re-election to the Jefferson Union High School Board.

Two other candidates, Ruth M. Boudinot, a trustee on the Laguna Salada District Board, and Albert Teglia, have also filed.

Burglar Gets $568, Leaves TV

San Bruno contractor Ivo Ascani, 41, San Bruno, lost $568 in cash, a clock-radio and two wristwatches to a burglar who ransacked his 215 Poplar Avenue home Sunday.

The burglar smashed a pane of glass in a rear kitchen door to gain entry, sometime between 6 and 8:45 p.m.

He went through drawers throughout the home, emptying the contents on the floor.

A television set had been moved from its normal location, which indicated, police said, the burglar might have considered taking it, too, but possibly had been frightened by the Ascanis when they returned home.

Coast Fire Investigated

Pacifica firemen are probing a fire that Sunday gutted a garage at 651 Linda Mar Boulevard.

The garage, full of art supplies, furniture and boxes of miscellaneous material, was attached to the home of the Bernard Artmanns.

A passing motorist spotted the blaze at 10:48 p.m. and called firemen.

Although the fire was confined to the garage, flames burned through the roof and consumed much of the contents, firemen said.

Broadmoor Church Sets Anniversary Breakfast

This Sunday morning, Palm Sunday, an anniversary celebration breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 Eighth Street, Daly City.

The congregation will observe the fifteenth year in the three-story educational building, ten years in the sanctuary and one year of three year's participation in the 50 million fund of the denomination.

This fund is for national and world refurbishing of mission facilities and buildings. The local building achievements were actually accomplished on the Palm Sundays of these past years and have made possible the work and growth of the local congregation.

At the breakfast, "old-timers" will recount some interesting incidents of the past and the pastor, Rev. Herbert Tweedie, will speak of the present.

The choir will sing the same anthem as sung that first Sunday in the sanctuary ten years ago, "Psalm 150," by Franck.

Don Molteni and Ken Gillespie head the planning committee and Rod Barnes assisted by other churchmen will cook the breakfast.

The morning worship services will be held at 9:30 and 11 a.m. as usual. The Chapel Choir sings "A Carol for Palm Sunday," by Curry, at the first service and the Chancel Choir of adults sings "Let All Ye Sons and Daughters Sing," by Leising at the second service.

Infants will be baptised at both services and the sermon theme is "Palm Sunday Praise."

Infant care is provided during the morning hours as are two sessions of Sunday school, one at each hour.

'Jewish Learning' Topic

"Jewish learning 100 years ago compared with Jewish learning today," will be the sermon topic of Rabbi Solomon A. Shore at Congregation B'nai Israel sabbath services Friday.

Services will begin at 8:30 and Rabbi Shore is to be assisted by Cantor Jeno Friedman.

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel will hold a "Masquerade Mardi Gras Purim Ball" on Saturday. The chairman, Mrs. Gordon Bennett, and her committee, will prepare a Kosher hot buffet dinner to be served at 8:30 p.m. A no-host cocktail hour will precede the dinner.

Dancing will be to the Steve Farnella Trio and there will be door prizes as well as prizes for the most original costumes. Costumes are optional, however.

Donation for this affair at the Temple House at 1575 Annie Street in Colma will be $3.50 per person.

Proceeds of this evening will go towards equipment for the congregation's Sunday school.

The Chavormis, the pre-teen youth group, will host a Purim party for the kindergarten, first and second grades of the religious school, according to advisor Julius Michmelis, March 22 at 2 p.m. at the Temple House.

Unique Call For Talent Is Issued

A unique call for acting and technical talent will be held by The Spindrift Playhouse Wednesday, March 22.

Members and other interested in play production are invited to bring familiar material to read and also participate in "tryouts."

The group will meet at the Pacifica Library in Sharp Park, Palmetto and Hilton, at 8 p.m. Selection of a play for future production also will be discussed. Currently a comedy, "Invitation to a March," is being readied for production, April 7, 8, 14, 15, 21 and 22, at the library.

"Invitation" is a breezy, salty seaside story of a re-incarnated love affair involving three families.

Should the stuffy Schuyler Grogan or the swinging Aaron-Jablonski marry the lovely Norma Brown?

The cast includes many experienced actors new to Pacifica audiences.

Further information on the casting call and The Spindrift Playhouse may be had by phoning Ethel Marks at 355-3565.

Garden Book Issued In New Edition

Sunset's Western Garden Book, $5.95, Lane Magazine & Book Company, is completely re-written and re-organized to make it the most reliable and comprehensive work on western gardens and gardening available to date.

This is not a revision of Sunset's Garden Book, that was revised in 1961, but a totally new volume, freshly researched and designed to provide quick, reliable garden information to Westerners.

Information starts with a special section describing 24 Western Climate Zones, (our local Peninsula area has four different climate zones), with large, clear maps which pinpoint exact locations. The remainder of the book is keyed to climate zones so one can easily tell the plants that do best in a given area.

How Plants Grow in the West provides a basic guide to the various parts of a plant and the part it plays in plant growth. This section also covers soils and planting mixes, planting techniques, watering, fertilizing, plant pests and diseases, pruning and propagation. A choice of materials is given for controlling each of the problems.

The 278-page Western Plant Encyclopedia section of the book, lists every plant available in Western Nurseries.

Sugar 'n Spice For The Irish

Nell Norton

When March 17 rolls around, the world is full of Irish men; the O'Kelleys, the O'Donells, the O'Schmidts and the O'Goldbergs are everywhere to be seen. And what better way to celebrate Paddy's Day than by cooking a bit of corn beef and cabbage?

CORNEB BEEF AND CABBAGE

6 pounds corned beef brisket
1 cabbage
3 turnips
6 onions
4 carrots
6 potatoes
2 bay leaves
4 whole cloves
Cover the six pounds of corned beef brisket with cold water. Add the two bay leaves and four whole cloves. Heat rapidly to boiling, then skim off foam, reduce heat and simmer until tender, three to four hours.

Prepare the vegetables, cutting the cabbage into eights and the three turnips into quarters. About 45 minutes before serving, skim fat from liquid. Add the turnips, onions, carrots and potatoes.

Cover and cook about one-half hour. Then add the cabbage for the last 15 minutes of cooking. Cook until all the vegetables are tender. Drain well and serve. Serves 10.

THE IRISH are a wonderful people and do many things well, one thing that the Irish cooks do exceptionally well is make quick bread. This recipe for Irish Sweepstakes Bread has been a favorite in my family for many years and no corned beef and cabbage dinner would be complete without it.

IRISH SWEEPSTAKES BREAD

¾ cup seedless raisins
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1-3 cup butter
1 teaspoon caraway seed
1 egg
1 cup sour milk

Rinse and drain the ¾ cup raisins. Sift together the two cups of flour, one tablespoon granulated sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon soda and one teaspoon salt. Cut in the one-third cup butter with knives or pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse corn meal. Stir in the raisins and one teaspoon caraway seed. Beat the egg slightly and add to the cup of sour milk. Make a well in the center of flour mixture and pour all liquid in at once. Stir with a fork until the flour is moistened (don't overmix). Turn into greased eight-inch round baking pan.

Bake in hot oven, 400 degrees, for about 20 minutes. Serve in wedges with butter. Makes 8 wedges.

To start off your meal with a splash of green try this cocktail.

ST. PATRICK'S COCKTAIL

3 medium grapefruit
½ to 1 cup sugar
1 (8 oz.) glass mint jelly
Pare the grapefruit, remove all the membrane, cut out the sections whole. Cut sections in half and drain off some of the juice. Next sprinkle sugar to taste. Melt the jelly in a double boiler and pour over grapefruit.

Let stand for several hours in refrigerator. Serve very cold in sherbet glasses.

Sudden thought — if you are feeling lazy you could use unsweetened canned grapefruit sections, draining them well before adding the sugar and jelly.

NOW it just may come about, gentle readers, that you have some of your corned beef left over. Be happy because you can combine all its goodness with beets and vegetables and make a delicious dish called Red Flannel Hash.

RED FLANNEL HASH

1½ cups leftover corned beef
1½ cups cold beets
2 tbsp. grated onion
3 cups chopped cold potatoes
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
3 tablespoons light cream

Combine the 1½ cups corned beef, 1½ cups beets, 3 cups potatoes, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Add the 3 tablespoons cream and mix lightly.

Melt fat in a heavy skillet. Spread meat mixture evenly in bottom. Cook over low heat without stirring about 30 minutes. (Loosen around edged with a spatula and shake skillet occasionally to prevent sticking.)

When crust forms on bottom, make a shallow crosswise cut in top. Tip skillet and slip out so that hash folds like an omelet. Serves four to six. If desired, top with poached eggs.

Library Friends Planning Review

The public is invited to the next book review of the Friends of the Daly City Library at 10 a.m., March 23.

The review will be held in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library at 275 Southgate Avenue.

The speaker, William Bartels, district manager of Doubleday and Co. Inc., will choose for review one of Doubleday's recent publications.

Bartels has had a varied background in the library field. He obtained his library science degree at Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio. His first experience in library work was driving a bookmobile among the people of Amish and Mennonite background.

He later filled positions as a librarian at Arizona State University at Tempe and the Phoenix City Library and as the district librarian of the Phoenix high school system.

As the district manager of Doubleday, he is in charge of contacts with the schools and libraries of this area.

Bartels will be introduced by Mrs. William Roay, book review chairman for the Friends.

The Friends are collecting, pricing and sorting donations of books and records for their annual Book Fair April 15 in the Westlake Shopping Center mall.

The public has been asked by Mrs. U. R. Kindree, chairman of the event, to assist in the community project by taking unwanted, but usable books to the collection centers which have been set up by the Friends.

Mrs. Kendree has arranged for collection bins to be placed in all of the Fire Stations as well as in the three libraries.

The Friends were founded in 1956 and incorporated in 1958 as a non profit organization of residents with the purpose of fostering closer relations between the Daly City Library and the citizens of Daly City.

They participate in the development of a program for the extension and improvement of the library services and resources.

One of their most popular projects is the well attended series of monthly book reviews which they sponsor at the library.

All of their funds are used in some way to benefit the library and to promote knowledge of the functions, resources, services and needs of the library.

History, legend, modern landscaping and hard cultural facts, plus a great many photographs in both color and black and white, make "The Magic World of Roses" by Matthew A. R. Bassity (Hearstside Press, $6.95 at book and department stores) most fascinating reading.

You don't have to be a rosarian to find this book too interesting to lay aside, for it challenges the imagination from the start by stating that the rose was on earth long before man and evidence places it on this planet some sixty million years ago. He also places the rose in Western United States by showing a picture of a rose left on a stone in Colorado some forty million years ago.

Home-owners and landscape architects will find plenty of inspiration for using roses around the home. There are some fifty-three color plates, eighty-nine black and white photographs, and sixteen drawings showing the rose doing its job of bringing beauty to the world over the years. These pictures are from famous gardens all over the world.

Photographers will find the chapter on photographing the rose a wonderful reference, for it tells how to obtain accurate color reproduction, maximum color in garden shots and the mechanical aids and techniques needed. This chapter goes into such details as how to pose a rose and the accessories that can be used to connote the name or quality of the rose.

Rosarians and home gardeners will find the chapters on rose culture a ready reference for growing perfect blooms and the grower who likes to exhibit or judge in the rose shows will find many suggestions to help him do a better job. Matt Bassity didn't rely on his own knowledge and judgment alone but sought the aid of experienced rosarians across this nation and Canada. The result is a book that every gardener will enjoy owning.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

THE FOCAL POINT

Your living room should be built around a "focal point," as the decorators like to call it. In plain language, this means the room should be built around some very outstanding piece or group of furniture, or some "center of interest," but there should not be more than one focal point.

Your focal point may be an eye-catching mural on a wall (and the colors of this mural could be picked up and used throughout the remainder of the room).

Or, it could be an entire wall grouping of pictures or paintings but two large walls of pictures would be pointless.

A focal point could be an unusual cocktail table, a sofa and chair grouping, a brightly colored large plant (real or artificial) or a gold-carved framed mirror to name just a few.

The important thing to remember is that the focal point must be sufficiently outstanding and attractive to use as the center of interest.

If you'd like some ideas for your living room, come in and talk it over with us. There is no obligation.

Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500.

Penneys ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY

THE PENNEY STORY

"One eye on quality; one on price"

By ROBERTA NASH

More often than not, in a store's newspaper advertising, the emphasis is on the price of merchandise, for this is the news that readers want to know.

But the Penney people want to be sure you understand that this emphasis on price in advertising does not represent the thinking within the Penney organization. The thing that makes Penney wheels go round is value, or what you get for that low price.

"We have to keep one eye on quality and the other on price," one of our buyers said to me. "Every sale we make today is designed to bring the customer back tomorrow."

Grand Slam Beats S.S.F.

Eric Nelson's 320-foot grand slam home run in the eleventh inning broke up a sparkling pitchers duel Friday afternoon at Orange Park to give Hillsdale's High School a 4-0 practice victory over South San Francisco High School.

Hillsdale's John Hult and the Warrior's Bob Aurigemma had been piling up goose eggs on the scoreboard prior to the explosive finish. Hult had struck out 10, while Aurigemma put down 11 men on strikes and issued three bases on balls.

Three South San Francisco errors and a sacrifice had loaded the bases in the top of the eleventh to set up Nelson's heroics.

Kauffman Is Player of Year

Capuchino High School's Jimmy Kauffman was named "Co-Player of the Year" by the Mid-Peninsula League basketball coaches last week.

Kauffman was the second highest scorer in the conference this year. His late brother, Dave Kauffman, was MPL "Player of the Year" in 1964. He was killed in an automobile accident last year.

Sharing the top player award with Kauffman this year is Hillsdale's Mark Wilson.

Things We Hear

Le Pacini

THINGS OVERHEARD AT AN ATHLETIC BANQUET:

City College of San Francisco football coaches Dutch Elston (head coach, Daly City resident; son, Butch, plays the game for Westmoor) and Alex Schwartz (Dutch's assistant) discussing their fabulous halfback, O. J. Simpson, and how lucky they were to keep him for the second year at City College.

"Scouts were flying in from all over the country," said Dutch. "The wining and dining was really going on. I wonder if even USC realizes how much competition they had."

As for that dumping upstart Laney College gave the Rams in the Prune Bowl:

"I don't like to make excuses," said Elston of the stunning upset which knocked the Rams out of number one in national JC standings, "but the kids were just down for that one. They were terribly disappointed over being shunned for the Junior Rose Bowl and almost voted not to accept the invitation."

"As for Laney, those kids were so high we thought they were going to take off. They were just ready to chew us up alive, and in that second-half they almost literally did."

FROM LLOYD DICKEY, former San Francisco Seal, Cleveland Indian and Daly City resident, now living in San Bruno:

"Kids just aren't interested in playing ball any more. Last summer I managed a team in San Francisco and even though I had about 16 kids on the roster, it was a struggle every game to field nine men — and even the ones who showed up, I had to pick up most of them at their front door. There were a few games when I only had four and five kids."

He added, "I'll never forget one kid. We had nine men and he was the last possibility to field a team so we wouldn't forfeit. I drove to his house, rang the bell, and he answered all dressed up in his Sunday best."

"Have you forgotten the game?" I asked him. "No," he says, "I haven't forgotten, but I must attend a tea this afternoon."

"A tea?" I asked. "A tea," he says, "You know, where you sit around and talk and drink tea and eat cookies."

"I thought the kid was putting me on, but he wasn't, by golly, he was serious. He really preferred going to a tea rather than playing ball."

DICKEY's son, Dennis, who did attend Westmoor and is now a junior at Crestmoor, is a chip off the old block, at a wiry 5-11, but he pitches with his right arm, unlike his dad, who was a lefty.

"I've worked a lot with Dennis," says his father, "and he's getting batters out regularly. Not spectacularly, not striking everybody out, but he still gets them out."

"I've told him to at least look like a pitcher, and he does. He has the good actions, good control, he looks the part. He's already had scholarship offers. I've told him that there are so few real ball players around nowadays — and so few who even LOOK like ball players — that a kid who even knows how to wear his uniform is going to draw scouts."

AND Roy Reitz, Sr., of Daly City, reports that his son, Roy, Jr., is retiring from the game after several years on the Giant farms.

"He figures when you hit .330 (Roy's batting average last year at Fresno, when he outthit Allan Gallagher and Bruce Hix) and they still want to send you out the next year, it's time to settle down to a sane life."

WELL, we did it again to Art Dikas, Bowling Chairman of the San Francisco Oldtimers' Association, an outfit made up of former San Francisco baseball players, pro and semi-pro.

Last year Art phoned the Post offices asking for a plug for the association's annual bowling tournament at Westlake Bowl. We weren't in but a message was taken. The message, however, was misplaced before we got to it, and when it was recovered several weeks later, it was discovered that whoever took the message had failed to get Dikas' phone number. By the time we procured that, the tournament was over.

Months later we got up the nerve to call Dikas, apologize, and assure him that the NEXT time would certainly be different.

So January 25 came along, time for this year's tournament among the Oldtimers' associations of San Francisco, Oakland, and Santa Clara. Art wrote us another letter, and guess what!

Once again an infallible at the Post filing system failed to function and... well, why go into detail.

The worst part, Dikas took a second place in the tournament, and San Francisco won the team title. Better late than never, Art? NEXT time, though, NEXT time, it'll be different.

THE SUBJECT of Terra Nova's great 138-pound wrestler, Jim Bonner, shouldn't be forgotten just because the season's now over and Bonner lost two matches in Sacramento to place "only" fifth in the entire state in his division.

It so happened that those two losses were only the second and third defeats Bonner had suffered in his past 41 matches. "All of them," says his coach, Roger Miller, "against the top men in the state."

Bonner had been undefeated since his sophomore year — when he lost the startling total of two. Prior to the two capital losses he had had only 14 points scored against him in his past two seasons... as against well over 200 against opponents.

One of the men who whipped Bonner and eventually went on to place third in the state was Westmoor's Bob Morris. Another local boy who made the state finals was Oceana's heavyweight, Bill Polson.

TAG ENDS: If the University of Pacific meets UCLA in the NCAA Regionals at Corvallis, it could prove to be a great game. If any team has a legitimate chance of knocking off the Bruins it would be, we feel UOP — for two reasons: 1) They're a really good but underrated team, the kind of squad the Bruins might be looking beyond, 2) Keith Swagerty, one of the country's most underrated players and the kind of rugged physical specimen who could discourage Lew Alcindor from hanging around inside... More "All-Star" absurdities, such as Santa Clara's Mike Gervasoni failing to be named All-Coast but — deservingly — getting All-American Honorable Mention.

The Westlake Junior 900 team made it five victories in the last six games as they took three victories from the Cloverleaf Bowl team last weekend. Craig Headman with 220 and 583 and Bob Peters with 192 — 541 led the scoring. With the youngest team in the league, our boys are not only winning more than their share of games, but are building a strong team for the future under the guidance of Coach Rich Brewer.

A great 645 series by Mike Jones topped the Native Sons League for the week. Mike had games of 235-211 and 199.

Two ladies topped the 600 mark in the Ladies 850 Scratch League as Joyce Schmidling started with a great 254 game and followed with a 166 and 207 for a 627 series. Barbara McRae took second honors with a 608 series on games of 223-199 and 186.

Chuck Parmele shot up a storm Monday evening as he led the Country Club Handicap League with a big 646 series on games of 212-188 and 246.

As the Mercy High School GAA league came to an end, Helen Ceccacci took high series honors with a two-game total of 344 as high game honors went to Chris Dito with 196. Cathy O'Connor received congratulations for shooting 92 pins over her average.

Gary Laws and Dave Folb shared top honors in the Sunday evening 510 Mixed Scratch Trio League last week. Gary had a high game of 208 and a four-game total of 766 while Dave's 770 series came on a high game of 236.

In the Friday evening Mixed Fours League, Jean Perada and Ed Rains led the scoring. Jean with a 212 game and 524 series and Ed with 213 and 585. Junior Director Marge Brown topped the Ladies Invitational League for the week with a 234 game and 555 series.

Vic Beitz topped the men in the Ball and Chain Mixed Fives League with a 613 series on games of 212-189 and 212 as Lee Gehard led the ladies with a 155 game and 451 series.

Jack Quinn topped the Bankers League for the week with a 230 game and 596 series.

Three bowlers went over the 600 mark in the 807 Scratch League as Bill Maloney led the field with 626 on games of 243-190 and 103.

Tourney Set At Stanford

Capuchino High School's basketball team gets a chance to right an early-season wrong Thursday in the Peninsula Basketball Tournament at Stanford Pavilion.

In tournament pairings made last week, Capuchino drew Cupertino as its first-round opponent in the annual prep classic. The Mid-Peninsula League champion Mustangs will battle Cupertino at 7 p.m., seeking revenge for a 73-50 defeat they suffered against the Santa Clara Valley Athletic League team in the Sunnyside Tournament in December.

South San Francisco, the north county's PBT delegate, will meet Live Oak at 5:30 p.m. in the Warriors' tournament opener.

The South Peninsula Athletic League representative, Sequoia, will open the tournament at 4 p.m. against San Jose.

The Catholic Athletic League champion, to be decided in the CAL play-offs this week, will meet Del Mar in its PBT opener at 8:30 p.m.

GARDEN STATE

Ocala Stud Farm in Florida has made 16 colts eligible for the 1967 Garden State, a 2-year-old race to be run at the Cherry Hill, N.J., course next November.

BIG TEN RECORD

Michigan's Rick Sygar set a Big Ten record last season by kicking 24 points after touchdown. He didn't miss once.

Sea Bowl News

By GINNY FEATHERSTONE

First spot was taken over in the Sea Bowl Doubles this past week. Pat Sageser and Jim Adams rolled a big 1413. They now lead in the Mixed Doubles as well. The Optional Singles is still lead by Larry Sabrido with his 495 two-game handicap series, and Pat Sageser is second with 492. Beginners' instruction classes were cancelled for the 10th, and instead will start on the 24th of March. If you are interested in learning to bowl, please call us at 359-1666. The lanes provide a nursery, if you have small children, free coffee, and bowling equipment.

The scores rolled this past week are as follows: 850 SCRATCH: For the California Trophy Team, Primo Liberatore took high game and series with a 244, 622. Other 220-games included Bill Philpot of Krake Construction, a 226, Hugo Rossi of the Danola Hams, a 222 and Vic Rocca of Dudley Perkins Co. a 221. MIXED UP FOURS: Joe Roman's 565 was high series for the evening. He also had a 212-game. For Kent's Grocery, Art Eckman a 213 and 552. Pat Leitner had a 501 series. EMPLOYEES' DOUBLES: The Goose had high game and series with a 227 and 570. His nice shooting along with his partner Arlene Hylton took Jose Minguela and myself for three games. Bad news. Jim Vlahovich a 223 and 562. He's just bowling good to get his name in the paper. KEGLERETTES: Betty Gayle was rolling up a storm this week having a 172, 206 and 210 for a 588 series. Nina Walsh, for D & J Music a 196 and 536. E. Schumacher a 204 and 516 and for Pacific Heights Shell, Bette Massing a 194-game. COCK-TAILS: Mary Roberta a 190 and 503. Joanne Funk a 189. EBB TIDE: Phyllis Crisp of Fontana's Allstate had a 196 and 520. Rose Pruett a 190 and 519. Lois Talbot a 514, and for Wisbey Realty, June Lendewig a 508. MERMAIDS: Colleen Caruso took high series with a 506. For Medallion Glass, Dot Turner a 186. Teammate Marie Brown picked up the 1-5-7. Some other splits converted were, Jay Gilmore the 3-7-10, Pam Ensing the 6-7 and Gwen Dawson the 2-7-10. Nice shooting girls. ALLEYHOLICS: On the Lou's Phillips 66 Team, Thelma Corcoran was high with a 521. Nickie Pemberton a 188 and 503. My team won two games this week after a long losing streak. I didn't bowl, I guess that's why.

Terra Nova Tournament

The first annual Terra Nova High School Easter Baseball Tournament will be held March 21-23 at the Terra Nova and Oceana playing fields.

Eight teams will participate in the invitational tournament. Coach Al Figone said, with games to be played simultaneously on both the Pacifica fields.

The first day's action will get underway at 11:30 a.m. with Lincoln High of San Francisco and Capuchino meeting on the Terra Nova field and Crestmoor and Salesian playing at Oceana.

Terra Nova will host El Cerrito at 2:30 p.m. on the opening day, and Oceana will play Novato on the Oceana diamond.

The championship playoff will take place March 23 at the Terra Nova Stadium, Figone said.

Tom Miller, 190-pound half-back from West Allis, Wis., led Dartmouth's freshman football team scoring with four touchdowns in five games last fall.

Jim Brenahan Sparks Tigers

Terra Nova High School's Jim Brenahan apparently has lost none of his athletic prowess in switching sports.

The 1967 North Peninsula League "Co-Player of the Year," in basketball, paced the Tigers to a 5-4 victory over Burlingame in a practice game at the Terra Nova field.

The Tigers, behind Brenahan's timely single, rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to defeat the Panthers. Craig Barrick opened TN's half of the inning with a single. Mike Woodward then followed with another single and Bob Desher walked to load the bases.

Then Brenahan rapped out a single which scored Barrick with the run which tied up the score, 4-4. Moments later, Woodward scampered home with the winning run on an overthrow.

Cornell's Ron Gervase set an Ivy League record for yardage gained in pass catching last season. He caught 30 passes for 478 yards.

The California Buick:

For years Buick has been in California studying Californians. You can buy a copy of their findings for under $3280⁰⁰*

When a Californian builds Buicks in California, he isn't likely to be thinking of the snow in Maine. So the birth of the California GS was a natural happening. We gave it plenty of power (a 240 cu. in. V-8 engine). We insisted on a Super Turbine automatic transmission as standard equipment. (This Buick invention does to long trips what California oranges do to breakfast.) We tailored a jaunty look by covering the top with black vinyl and the wheels with chrome. We gave it a tinted windshield. (We love the California sun, too, but... Why don't you take a California GS on your next trip east?

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price including 340-4, 260 hp V-8 engine, Super Turbine transmission • air injector reactor • performance axle without positive traction (3.23 ratio) • Ride and handling option • Soft-ray tinted windshield • Chrome-plated wheels • Belt reveal and wheel opening molding • appearance group, deluxe steering wheel and carpeting front and rear • Custom vinyl top covering • rear quarter belt moldings and roof drip molding • GS ornamentation package. Also includes Federal Excise Tax, suggested delivery and handling charge and transportation charges. Other accessories and optional equipment, state and local taxes are additional.

Westmoor Takes Relay Honors at 3-Way Meet

S.S.F. Is Close Second

The North Peninsula League track and field wars appear to be a two-horse race again this season.

Westmoor and South San Francisco, the two dominating powers of the NPL, answered the cinder season's call Friday in the NPL relays and finished one-two.

Coach Bob Lualhati's Rams got the best of it, winning the NPL relays held at South SF's Clifford Field with 58 points. Only three points back was host SSF, with 55 points, while El Camino was a distant third with 34 markers.

The meet's team trophy is based on the scores of all three divisions and the Rams won it for the fourth straight year.

This year's relays were marred by cold winds and intermittent rains, which tended to hinder the participants and slow down times. However, three records were broken in the varsity competition.

The Rams medley relay team nipped the old standard by a single second, winning the event in 10:53.4.

South San Francisco's speedster, Russ Cottrell, and Vince Nash teamed up to lead the Warriors to victories in the 880-yard relay and the 440 yard relay.

Nash, Cottrell, Gary John and Dave Houston teamed up to win the 880 with a 1:35.7 clocking. Nash and Cottrell then joined John Perez and Dale Kuersten to annex the 440 yard relay with a 46-second flat time.

Coach Jim Stireman's El Camino colts came through with excellent performances in the weights, winning both the shot put and the discus relays. In the latter event, they recorded a new NPL relay record with a collective throw of 387-2.

Westmoor ran away with the class B meet, garnering 70 points compared to second place El Camino's 51. Jefferson won the class C relays with 62 points.

Enrollment Up In Tennis Class

Additional enrollments have been made in the San Mateo County YWCA tennis class.

The Saturday morning class is under the instruction of Jaime Callaco, and is open to men, women and young people.

Callaco, the son of amateur tennis champions, is from Sao Paulo, Brazil, and came to the United States four years ago on a tennis scholarship from the University of Wyoming.

As team captain for two years at the university he played number one position on the doubles team and number two position on the singles team. He is currently a student at San Francisco State college.

He has five years of experience as an instructor.

The YWCA classes are restricted in size to provide fine quality instruction.

The YWCA will offer another term of classes starting the week of April 24. Enrollment is open to all, and information is available at the YWCA office, 375 South Mayfair, Daly City.

Oceana Nips Junior Ram Baseballers

The Westmoor frosh-soph baseball team will journey to Aragon Friday to play the Dons. The Rams will be out to improve their preseason record, having lost to Oceana last Tuesday in the preseason opener, 6-3.

The Oceana game was close all the way, until the Sharks broke it open with four runs in the top of the seventh inning. The Rams had forged ahead with two runs in the bottom of the previous inning.

Oceana's Shores pitched a consistent game for the winners. Although allowing the Rams eight hits, his sharp curve came through in the clutch.

Westmoor's Coach Harry Weidner, commenting after the game on the Shark's pitcher, said, "His control was very good. He didn't walk one man the whole game. He made us earn our runs."

Freshman Don Shotts, making his first appearance on the mound for Westmoor, pitched three shutout innings for the losers.

Area Teens Slate Host of Activities

The Jefferson High Teens in Daly City have slated two band dances for April — Saturday nights, April 1 and 15 at the War Memorial Community Center from 8 to 11 p.m.

This newest addition to the Daly City Recreation Department's teen clubs offers dances and special activities to Jefferson High students and parochial high school students living in the Jefferson District.

The club's advisors, Tom Martinez and Sheila O'Shaughnessy, have announced that council elections will be at the council's next meeting, March 20.

This new slate of officers will fill the positions now held by Club Pres. Lou Matteucci, Vice Pres. Tony Schrock, Sec. Diana Ortiz and Treas. Florio Flores.

Admission to the club's dances are 50 cents for members and 75 cents for guests.

THE members of Daly City's Westside Teen Club are planning their Special Easter Dance, March 22, at the West-moor Gymnasium from 7:45 to 11 p.m.

The club will have "The December's Children" to furnish the music for the evening.

Also featured for this event is a special Easter door prize.

The latest big event held by the club was a ski trip to Soda Springs. Members had two days of skiing, an evening dance and snow fights. Ski instruction was provided by Bruce Cunningham and Miss Pat Moore of Jefferson High School.

THE Roof Raisers Teen Club, which meets at Daly City's Franklin D. Roosevelt School, has been living up to its name this year.

This small, jovial group has been taking advantage of a wide variety of activities.

A recent swim party at Jefferson High School was a big hit with the club and provided a diversion from dancing. Other excursion trips have included roller skating, Pee Wee Golf, and a trip to the Oakland Coliseum for an ice hockey game.

Anticipating a "first" next Friday night, the club will be featuring a movie, "Journey to the Center of the Earth." Parents, friends and family are welcome.

In the near future, the club plans a trip to Angel Island for an entire day; a picnic at Blackberry Farm; ice-skating and a Sports Night. It looks like a fun-filled schedule of events for the Roof Raisers and new members are always welcome.

THE Telestars Junior Teen Club, which meets at Westmoor Park Clubhouse in Daly City, consists of 240 members. The club is having a variety of activities.

A band dance last week was successful with the "Underground Exit" as the band. A dance contest and musical chairs (teen-club style) highlighted the evening.

Other trips the club have taken included ice skating, roller skating, bowling and an ice hockey game at the new Coliseum in Oakland. Our next activity will be a band dance with the "Psychedelic Webb" dance contest and mixer will be held during the evening.

The club soon will have a swimming night, a trip to Angel Island for a day of hiking hot dog roast and games; a picnic at Blackberry Farm and a Graduation Dance at the end of the school year.

Anyone who would like to join Telestars Teen Club is to come to Westmoor Park, Mon-

Louanne Heath's 'Datebook'

IF YOU ARE WONDERING what to serve for dessert to those relatives you are expecting for dinner on Sunday, the ladies of the Altar and Rosary Sodality of the Good Shepherd Church in Pacifica would like you to drop by the bake sale the group is sponsoring this Sunday.

Mrs. Carmen Prowse, the publicity chairman, reports that all types of baked goods will be offered for sale in the rectory garage after each mass. All the proceeds of the event are earmarked for the new parish school currently under construction.

The membership will go over the final details for the sale when the regular monthly meeting convenes this evening at 8 p.m. Also to be discussed are the plans for the sodality's Communion mass also on Sunday's schedule. Coffee and donuts will be served to the members in the parish hall following the Communion service, Mrs. Prowse said.

The delightfully unique invitations to the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary's Beans, Beer, and Burlap Bash ought to win the clever committee members who conceived them a prize of some type!

A very chewy hot dog wrapped in a paper napkin and delivered rolled in a piece of burlap is the most original bid to attend a kickoff dinner for a rummage sale we have seen in a long, long time!!

The party which will be held in the Original Anchor Steam Brewery on April Fool's Day, is a benefit for the Phoebe Hearst Pre-School Learning Center.

Mrs. Mario Mangini has been named the chairman of the Spring Dance and Buffet supper being sponsored by the Sodality of Our Lady of the Assumption of St. Thomas More parish.

Helping Mrs. Mangini prepare for the April 22 event are her committee members, Mrs. Leo Fratessa, co-chairman; Mrs. Eugene Kiep, reservations; Mrs. Louis Carrara, decorations and Mrs. Daniel Malardino, door prizes.

Mrs. Albert Youngert, the Prefect of the Sodality, announced that the dance committee will hold a silent auction after the regular sodality meeting on Tuesday, April 4.

KENT WHITNEY and award winning photographer Robert Comer will be the special guests when the Pacifica Federated Women's Club meets on March 28 for the regular monthly business session at Terra Nova High School.

Comer will show his collection of underwater slides and Whitney, an authority on skin diving, will answer questions about the sport.

The March agenda will include the selection of members of the nominating committee and the appointment of delegates to the annual convention in Marin County next month.

Members of the San Francisco Alumnae chapter of the Alpha Iota Business Sorority learned that Westlake's Glenice Thompson will be the co-sponsor of the sorority's new chapter for girls still in college.

The local "active" chapter will be known as Delta Mu and is affiliated with Heald Business College. Carol Foster is the unit sponsor. Hilda Anderson of the Alpha Iota alumnae chapter will give the rush tea for prospective Delta Mu members in her apartment on April 2, according to Mrs. James McCraney, publicity chairman.

MRS. LEE STRINGER presiding at the Florence Crittendon North Peninsula Circle's annual meeting last week received a gold charm bracelet and a Florence Crittendon key for her efforts on behalf of the home during the past year.

The luncheon meeting, at Val's Redwood Room, had as guest of honor Mrs. Marjorie Lawrence, the home's new co-ordinator of Volunteer Services. Also present were Mrs. Hal Tonini, Mrs. William Bussini, Mrs. Kenneth Edwards, and Mrs. Paul Gill, who have announced their intention to become affiliated with the local circle, Mrs. Murray Freedman reports.

Mrs. Gail Mahoney, ways and means chairman, has announced that the circle's Project Enterprise is picking up a good deal of steam! In the past weeks there has been a luncheon party and white elephant sale sponsored by Mrs. Mel Bocci, Mrs. Doris Plant, Mrs. Mahoney, Mrs. Barbara Vollers, Mrs. Stringer and Mrs. Peggy Crandall; a dinner party sponsored by Mrs. Bocci, Mrs. Rita Weurthner; sewing classes for teens conducted by Mrs. Marie Poggio, an artificial flower sale by Mrs. Mary O'Neill and an auction of three autographed copies of Fred Goerner's book, "The Search for Amelia Earhart," conducted by Mrs. Mary Ellen Ariani and Mrs. Freedman. The proceeds from all the individual money raising projects go toward purchasing furnishings for the recently acquired annex to the home.

Parents and teens are urged to attend the Westmoor P-TA showing of the film, "250,000 Teenagers," scheduled for tomorrow evening in the Westmoor High School cafeteria.

The film, which deals with venereal disease, will be augmented with talks by Dr. David Schwartz, M.D., and Glenn South, principal of the school. South will discuss the importance of family life education from the point of view of the educator and Dr. Schwartz will present the medical problems arising from the rise in venereal disease among the nation's youth.

The Westmoor band, under the direction of Howard Loeffler, will also be on hand to entertain, according to Mrs. Peter Markovich, unit president.

AN EVENING OF RECOLLECTION will be held next Tuesday beginning at 7:30 p.m. in Riordan High School, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Bucci, publicity chairman.

Father Joseph Priestley, chaplain of the school, will be the retreat master and members of the Riordan Club for fathers as well as all friends of the school, are invited to attend.

Mrs. Robert Ritchie, guild spiritual director, is the chairman of the evening.

This past Sunday, Daly City Mayor Bernard Lyett was the breakfast speaker for the annual Fathers' and Sons' Mass and Communion Breakfast at the high school. The women of the Riordan Guild prepared the breakfast for the students and their dads.

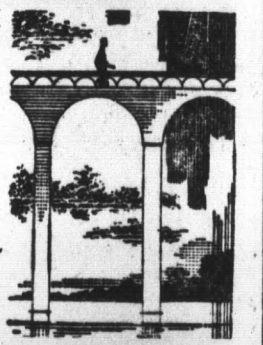

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pester and their four-year-old daughter, Connie, are the houseguests of Mrs. Pester's sister and brother-in-law, the Virgil Mortons of Pacifica.

The Pester family resides in Chico.

Missing from the local social scene this past week was Mrs. Lee Terminello, who gave birth to a son.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Small cavities in the teeth can be filled more easily and with less discomfort than large ones. If decay is neglected it leads to infection and abscess formation. An infected tooth is a hazard to good health and often must be removed.

A tooth that has been lost should be replaced by an artificial one. If it is not, the other teeth will shift. This shifting may lead to more decay and to diseases of the gums.

Irregular placement of the teeth should be corrected for many reasons: To improve appearance, speech and the ability to chew food and to help prevent other dental diseases.

Regular dental treatment will help you to have teeth that are both healthy and attractive.

Have your dentist check for cavities and follow his recommendations if treatment is needed. Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Cancer Unit Exhibits In Westlake Mall

Dr. Howard Gurevitz, executive director of the North County Mental Health Center, has made space available to the Daly City Unit of the American Cancer Society (ASC) for their monthly meetings.

The unit had an exhibit in the Westlake Mall last week, featuring a continuous film, human lung specimens (courtesy of the University of California pathology museum) and unlimited amounts of literature about cancer and cancer prevention.

"Hapless Hannah," a smoking model showed the effects of tobacco on the bronchials.

April will have the unit busy on still another project of concern to women of every age, that of the necessity for breast self-examination. A film will be presented free of charge at the Serra Theatre on Junipero Serra Boulevard, April 19. A doctor will be in attendance for an informative and life-saving "Question and Answer" session after the film "Breast Self-Examination." These are just a few of the projects performed annually by the small unit.

They are now in the midst of preparing for the 1967 April Cancer Crusade, and still need as many volunteers as possible to walk a block or two to distribute life-saving literature and collect donations.

Persons wishing to donate "A Gift of Time" in memory of a friend or loved one, may do so by calling one of the Co-City chairmen and volunteering to walk a block. The family or friends will then receive a memorial that you have done this service in memory of a loved one.

A goal of $134,500 has been set for the 1967 Cancer Crusade in San Mateo County.

Announcement of the target figure, highest in the 20-year history of San Mateo County Branch, American Cancer Society, was made by Carl F. Roepke Jr., of Hillsborough, branch vice president in charge of fund raising.

Co-chairmen of the combined fund raising and educational campaign in the north sector are Mrs. Floyd Welch of San Mateo and Mrs. Jack C. Craven Jr., of Hillsborough.

Roepke pointed out the $134,500 goal represents a five per cent increase over the 1966 quota.

"In view of the community's steady growth and the constantly increasing enthusiasm among our volunteers, we're confident of success in meeting the goal," he said.

"Contributions received from neighbors by our thousands of block workers make up the bulk of the financial support for ACS programs of research, education and service to cancer patients," Foster said.

unit secretary, and Miss Hazel Dill. After a four-day stint, volunteers of the D.C. unit and their spouses will be entertained today by comedian Billy Grant, who will make an 8 p.m. appearance in the Westmoor High cafeteria. (Post Photo)

False Arrest Suit Against S.S.F., County

A $15,000 false arrest suit was filed in Superior Court March 7 against the city of South San Francisco and the county of San Mateo.

The suit, filed by Evelyn Krupp Levin of San Francisco, alleges that her arrest was without reasonable cause and was based on malice on the part of South San Francisco police officers.

Last May 4, Mrs. Levin was charged with making an unsafe stop on Junipero Serra Boulevard and not giving a stop signal. Her car was struck from behind by another auto and she and a passenger were injured.

After six appearances in court, the charge was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Mrs. Levin said she made an emergency stop on the highway to avoid a collision with another car.

She asks $10,000 general damages and $5,000 punitive damages.

Pacifica Rejects Ag Zone Requests From Residents

Pacifica Planning Commissioners turned down requests from two property owners for "agricultural preserve" zoning March 6.

Bernard Price was seeking to place 14 acres in Vallemar Gardens in an agricultural preserve, and John Castagnetto sought the special zoning on approximately 21 acres.

State Assembly Bill 2117 authorizes cities to enter into agreements with landowners to establish agricultural preserves, and provides a considerable reduction on land in such zones.

Commissioners recommended the city council deny the applications on grounds residential development or highway construction are likely in the areas, and the zoning "is not intended for use in situations such as these."

In other business, the commission recommended denial of a use permit request from Alpha Land Co. for erection of tract signs on Skyline Boulevard after several property owners protested.

A six-month use permit for a tract sign in Fairmont West was awarded to the Doelger Corporation.

Loot Found After Arrest

A Colma man was arrested and charged with a series of North Peninsula burglaries last week when police staked out his house after receiving a tip from an informant.

South San Francisco Detective Jack Rhodes and Colma Police Chief Ray Savage arrested Gerald Hannah, of 1280 Hillside Boulevard, about 10 p.m. at his home.

Rhodes said more than $600 worth of loot was recovered from the house, including a set of chromium plated wheels stolen from a car parked this week at the home of Gary Foppiano, 100 Eucalyptus Avenue in South San Francisco.

day through Saturday, for a membership form. New members are always welcome.

MARCH 10, the Know Names Teen Club held its Spring Dance.

Know Names Junior Teen Club is one of five such teen clubs whose activities are designed for kids in the seventh and eighth grade. In the last few months the club has held many activities. The most popular of these activities seem to be dances which feature live music. The annual snow trip and an ice skating activity were very well attended.

Coming up in the near future will be a volleyball tournament which will be held between all of the clubs, a beach party, a barbecue and a graduation dance.

THIS school year the Casuals Junior Teen Club has engaged in something new — joint dances with another Junior Teen Club, The Imperials.

This has given them the opportunity to broaden their friendship circles and to share their fun with others outside their own group. The Casuals will continue to share their fun with the Imperials in other activities beside dances. There will be a joint bowling contest April 8 and a trip to Lake Temescal on June 3.

The next event for the Casuals is the annual Junior Teen Club Volleyball Tournament April 1. The club will have a Sports Night Practice and Dance on March 17.

Joanne Borovoy, a junior at Lincoln High School, has been elected president of the Teen Council of Brotherhood Way Center.

Miss Borovoy succeeds Carole Siegel, a senior at Westmoor High School in Daly City. The Teen Council is the program planning group for senior high school students of the Jewish Community Center located at 655 Brotherhood Way, San Francisco.

Elected to serve with Miss Borovoy are: Marcy Alpine, vice president; Fayla Schwartz, secretary; Mark Perlman, treasurer; Jack Svit-sky, sergeant at arms; Nina Gabriel, publicity chairman; also members at large: Carole Siegel, Pam Gabriel, Bob Larmann, Shelly Cohen, Dave Pava.

A teen snow trip to the Donner Ski Ranch in Norden is being co-sponsored by three branches of the United Jewish Community Centers (Brotherhood Way Center, the San Francisco Center, and the Peninsula Center).

Senior high school students are eligible to register for the trip, which departs March 31, at 5:30 a.m., and returns April 2, at 7 p.m. Six meals, beginning ski lessons two evenings of fun-filled program at the Ski Lodge, and round-trip transportation are offered in the all-inclusive price.

Non-center members may register as long as space remains, for $34. For further information call Miss Marian Rosenthal, 334-7474.

Maurovich Is Guest Talker

Rev. Francis Maurovich, editor of Oakland's Catholic Voice, will be the guest speaker on the closing program of a community Lenten series at St. Veronica's School hall, Alida Way, So. San Francisco, on Tuesday, March 21, at 8 p.m.

His talk, "Community of Man," will be the last in the lecture course, "The Christian in the Modern World," presented on the six Tuesdays of Lent by the social justice committee of the parish.

Rev. Maurovich attended the last three of the four Vatican II sessions as a journalist, reporting for his paper.

Dedication Of Building Slated

Dedication of a new building which serves the San Francisco Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints as the center of its activities and the Balboa and Daly City Wards as a chapel will be part of the San Francisco Stake Mormon quarterly conference, March 18 and 19.

A member of the Presiding Bishopric of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints Bishop Robert L. Simpson, will be the principal speaker.

Bishop Simpson, former president of the New Zealand Mission, was chief supervisor of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's accounting office in Southern California until called to the Presiding Bishopric in 1961.

MRS. NANCY NUTTING looks over her husband's work—landscaping the grounds of the nursing home for handicapped children they operate on Alta Vista Way outside South San Francisco. SSF Offers Street Trees To Homes

It was announced recently that the City of South San Francisco is making available some trees for public distribution in an effort to promote conservation, street tree planting, city beautification and soil erosion control.

Trees will be available shortly for homeowners who do not have a street tree in front of their homes.

The city recently assisted the Westborough Homeowners Association in developing tree planting for erosion control and is working on the same program with another homeowners group.

South San Francisco is interested in cooperating with any group such as schools, churches, scouts or neighborhood associations who are planning a tree planting program. The office of the city recreation and parks department can be contacted for information on availability of trees.

NEW ALLSTATE PERSONNEL MANAGER

Larry H. Williford has been named personnel manager for Allstate Insurance Companies' regional office in Menlo Park, according to W. Kel Potter, regional manager.

2 More Children Arsonists

Two more South San Francisco children were charged with arson Friday after a 12-year-old boy admitted setting a fire last month which resulted in more than $5,000 damage to a Miller Avenue residence.

The same youth and a 6-year-old companion also admitted setting fire to clothes and paper in an apartment house laundry room February 20, officers said. This fire was extinguished before major damage occurred.

South San Francisco Police Detectives Bill Peterson and Ted Silvas said the 12-year-old told them he started the fire in the bedroom of the William H. Caudle residence at 1031 Miller Avenue, and then tried to stamp out the blaze, but "it was too late."

The 12-year-old was cited to Hillcrest and the younger child

PFC GARY BEECHER, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beecher of 102 Westline Drive, Daly City, is in South Vietnam with the U.S. 186th Light Infantry Brigade. Gary has been overseas since last October. He was a 1965 graduate of Jefferson High School.

released to the custody of his parents.

Peterson arrested another child, a 9-year-old boy, last Tuesday after the youth admitted setting fire to a C Street apartment. Damage from that blaze was estimated at $1,500.

Chamber Considers Dropping Colma

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce board of directors moved Thursday to bury the "Colma" name from all future activities unless that city starts active participation in the chamber.

Dave Friedenberg made a motion to advise chamber members of an intent to drop Colma from the organization in the near future.

"It would amount to a notice of intent," Friedenberg said.

Another director, Don Monson, felt every effort should be made to get together with responsible officials and businessmen in Colma before severing the relationship.

Chamber Manager Peter Markovich was instructed to write a letter to the Colma City Council asking them to attend a formalization it will take a while to replace letterheads and related material now bearing the "Daly City-Colma" title.

In other action, Chamber President John Wuerthner informed members that the county had agreed to remit the $600 subsidy that had been withheld for several months.

A letter was sent several weeks ago to County Supervisors Jean Fassler and Louis Chess regarding a thinly-veiled threat from County Manager E. R. Stallings to cut off the $600 coming chamber luncheon to discuss the matter.

Markovich said if the chamber dropped Colma from the annual subsidy to the chamber if the city continued to withhold some 25 per cent of the motel-hotel taxes realized here.

At their last meeting, the chamber expressed the opinion that the county gets "more than $600 worth of publicity and service for their money."

Elio Fontana said the Outstanding Students Award will be held April 20 at Joes of Westlake.

Fontana earlier suggested the awards program be postponed this year due to other activities of the chamber, such as the civic center dedication, which falls at approximately the same time.

"I was amazed at the response from members when I suggested the youth awards be postponed this year," Fontana said.

No Volcano: Just Science Class Stuff

A volcano in San Bruno?

That's what firemen of Station Two found after receiving a 2:08 p.m. fire alarm Thursday.

They rolled to Rollingwood Elementary School, where a custodian led them to a classroom in which he had smelled an odor not unlike that given off by burning electrical wire.

While the firemen were attempting to locate a possible fire — without success at that point — a teacher came by to volunteer s.l.e. had been demonstrating a volcano, using chemicals.

Fire officials think the fumes from the volcano drifted into the ventilation system, which carried the acrid smell into the adjoining room.

Children in the "volcano room" were evacuated.

'Distinguished Young Man' Event Slated

The Pacifica Jaycees plan to honor that community's "Most Distinguished Young Man" at a banquet March 31 at Nick's Rockaway Beach Restaurant in Pacifica.

The YMI award, according to Frank Terranova, is the highest honor the Pacifica Jaycees annually presents.

It will go to the man between 21 and 36 years of age who "gives the most meritorious service to his family, church, his community and nation," Terranova explained.

The awards ceremony at the banquet will recognize and honor the winner's achievements and provide a stage for the honoree, said Terranova, "to challenge and inspire young men."

The Pacifica award winner will be entered in the state competition.

Terranova said the March 31 dinner would start at 7:30 p.m., with a no-hosted cocktail party planned at 6:30 p.m.

Nomination forms are available from Terranova, 401 Paloma Avenue.

BBB Asks Business To Police Self

A spokesman for the San Mateo County Better Business Bureau urged Pacifica Chamber of Commerce members Wednesday to take steps toward regulating their own business activities "as a means of avoiding government restrictions."

Ret. Admiral Charles Beasley, manager of the Better Business Bureau, said the federal government's policy of protecting the consumer is "here to stay," and likely to increase more than decrease.

Beasley said his office received more than 22,000 inquiries from consumers last year, most of them requesting information on the reliability of local firms.

"Only about 10 per cent of these inquiries were in the nature of complaints," Beasley said, "and 90 per cent of the complaints were adjusted by the businesses involved."

Rooftop Lady Wrecks TV Reception

Television reception was extremely bad in the 400 block of 88th Street, Daly City, last night.

A viewer told police, "One minute the program was coming in loud and clear and the next it was blurred and impossible to watch."

It didn't take residents of several apartment houses on the street long to find the source of the trouble.

A 56-year-old Daly City woman was running along the rooftop snapping off antennas.

"It looked like she was picking flowers," a resident said.

Ercoli Brothers Plan April Golf Tournament

THE FIRST ANNUAL LEANING TOWER Invitational Golf Tournament is next month and, from all appearances, it's going to be a smash success. George Deason, well-known left-hander, is Tournament Chairman and will rely on his past experience of organizing left-handed tournaments. Playing date is April 3; the site will be Crystal Springs Golf Course. Entry fee is $22.50 — includes green fees, cocktails, and hors d'oeuvres Monday night, March 27, during the team drawings; cocktails with a steak dinner at 3 p.m. the night of the tournament. There will be three-man teams, with prizes for team, low gross and hole-in-one. Closing date for entry is March 21, with only 60 players as a maximum. Send your entry fees and handicaps to the Leaning Tower in South San Francisco, attention Joe Ercoli.

IT APPEARS that the well-deserved fame of the International Inn Restaurant, South San Francisco, is ubiquitous. General Manager Phil Rauscher reports that a group from the "Salad Bowl of the Nation" (Salinas), known as "The Happy Wanderers," stopped by the "Inn" Wednesday on their way to San Francisco. They called in advance for reservations, so obviously these "salad" experts were anxious to taste the International Inn's offerings. . . . The big news at Bruno's is Chef Bruno Fava's "Special Dinners" served seven nights a week. These complete dinners are not seasonal specialties, but are daily menu listings. As an example: A choice USDA Top Sirloin dinner is only $2.95. Co-owner Tom Zuchelli wishes to point out that a complete Canneloni dinner is featured on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. . . . Phil Lehr's Steakery and elegant Wellington Room in downtown S.F. broke all records last week.

THE HOTEL CANTERBURY in San Francisco, with new Catering Managers Ted Leventis and Bill Foundas and new French Chef Jean Roumieux, is drawing more and more gourmets every night for dinner in the hotel's Garden Room. . . . Pancho's down Redwood City way not only offers a variety of Mexican lunches and dinners, but serves special "extras" that make a meal here equal to one "South of the border." A wide selection of Mexican desserts, such as Flan, a delicious custard which is served in all parts of Mexico, is also featured. Mexican beer is always available to enhance the flavor of your meal. . . . Bertolucci's is justly famed for Mamma Bertolucci's cannelloni and French-Italian dishes, but a big reason for its success has been its convenience of location. It's an easy stop before visiting the Cow Palace or before visiting the theater in San Francisco. The Airport and Candlestick Park are within easy access, too.

EDITH AND LEW LEHR are back at their Steak House in SF's Marina after a Palm Springs vacation. They happily found a letter from C. J. Baalman of the National Bank of Hoxie, Kan.: "For weeks I've searched stores for Beef Bacon Crumbs as you served in my baked potato. Where can I buy this delicious product?" The answer is "Nowhere," as it's a secret recipe of Lehr's that he will soon market under his own label. . . . Would you believe that Doran's in Belmont is a commute stop? It is. Many of Dubbie Doran's old pals, who commute regularly from San Jose to San Francisco, make Doran's a dining stopping point on every trip. . . . Dock and Bob Holliday, a rhythm-and-blues singing duo, captured the Grand Prize in the Talent Contest at Wayne Manor in Sunnyvale. The brother act is currently enjoying the prize: a trip to Acapulco. The Persuaders entertain nightly for dancing. On Mondays, The Rivera Brothers are onstage. . . .

BEAUTIFUL BARBARA McNAIR opened an engagement at Bimbo's 365 Theater-Restaurant in San Francisco, last evening, and the sensational young songstress showed her fans talent versatility with ballads, show tunes, pop selections and a commanding skill with jazz. She shares the bill, which extends through March 22, with comic Mickey Manners, who is well known to daytime television audiences. . . . It's been harder to catch Frank Fabbro in his popular Redwood City Fabbro's restaurant these days, than a solid eight-spot Keno ticket on a Nevada weekend spree. A zealous golfer, Frank manages to take advantage of good weather out on the course. Between golfing dates, however, he's all business — and his favorite topic is Fabbro's food. Tip of the week: Shrimp Louie, as prepared by Chef Emelio Maldonado.

WHEN VOLUPTUOUS VICKI ALVAREZ, the "Latin Bombshell," hits the dance floor at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa cantina and restaurant in San Francisco, it's like an explosion of napalm. She sings lustily, dances alluringly and carries on a flirtatious love affair with the eager males in the audience. But her charm and sense of humor quickly win over the gals, too. . . . Vic and Julie Proul and Joerg and Claudia Krumpholtz are drawing up plans which will completely remodel the dining room area of their Fork 'n' Cork on El Camino Real. The new look will not only recreate the same delightful atmosphere, it is expected to add additional capacity for seating diners. . . . Notis Issichopoulos of the orchestra at the Balkan Village, Los Altos, is ranked among the top classical pianists of Greece. He has appeared on the Ed Sullivan show as well as in the Yacoubian Greek troupe which toured this country. . . .

Sam Basin "Dines" At Villa Chartier

Ah me, shades of Henry VII: Sam Basin, the El Camino furniture man (he sells everything from mouse traps to complete home furnishings. And if he doesn't have what you want, he'll fly it in from any part of the globe), hosted a dinner party at Emerson Murfee's Villa Chartier and ate his way through two orders of prime ribs (each serving included a rib bone). When I joined the party for coffee, Samuel suggested we all go over to the next-door Lanai for Banana Fritters, which he called "the very end." We did just that — and I mean it was the very "end" of my diet.

Keep your eye on the spectacular Villa Hotel. Soon to debut here will be their new steak room, "The Upper Level" (just for steaks). This will be something new for the El Camino Restaurant Strip. Bright Lights will keep you posted as to the grand opening date.

CHA CHA CHA — This is not an Arthur Murray dancing instructor giving Sinaloa entertainer Vickie Alvarez a lesson in dancing. It's Mr. Lloyd Shippey of the San Carlos Shippeys, who was a member of a recent Sinaloa birthday party celebration. Vickie invited Mr. Shippey to participate in her floor show performance. "Did he refuse?" Humm.

You Won't Be In the "Rough" At The Sandbagger
You won't find yourself in the "rough" when selecting Dave McSwain's Redwood City Sandbagger, whether it's for a quick beer, cocktails, or a complete dinner in the dining room. Your choice of New York Steak, Lobster Tails, or Roast Beef, as prepared by ex-Marine Chef Robert Richardson, will prove palate satisfying. Incidentally, if golf is mentioned at the bar, you'll find yourself quickly engaged in a heart-to-heart conversation with handsome, ex-golf pro Dave before you can say "fore."

Action at Nick's Seven Days a Week

When cruising along Highway 1 in Pacifica and you see the sign which reads "Nick's," make a hard right on Hewitt Avenue, park your car in Nick's huge ocean front parking lot and amble into the "restaurant domain" of Lorraine and Nick Gust. There's something doing here every hour it's open, seven days a week. Breakfast, luncheon, dinner, banquet facilities — for big or small parties, a fire-side cocktail lounge, dancing in the evenings, and lots of fun. Don Kelly is featured at the organ Wednesday through Saturday; the Del Carlo Combo, Fridays and Saturdays. Along with Mary Ann Hay, vocalist.

Had a date with good-looking Pete Brallier, the Round Table Pizza Parlor "Midas," last Monday, but guess he was too busy seeking out more locations for servicing his delicious Hof-Brau sandwiches and pizza. My pizza take-out order at your San Mateo "branch" was most filling, Pete.

Parking is no problem at Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant — even on Friday nights. Vince Licata's famous restaurant, next-door seafood depot and delicatessen cover a couple of acres, which includes a large parking lot for the convenience of his patrons.

Dances With A Boa Constrictor

Tara, the Topless dancer from San Francisco's Broadway, who is currently appearing at the Pussy Cat Go-Go at the Brass Rail, says she dances with a boa constrictor around her which is ten feet long, not eight feet as reported in Bright Lights, last Friday. No matter how long the friendly reptile is, he doesn't cover much of her 40-24-37 dimensions.

Things I would like to see on television: A kitchen scene at Enrico Romano's Italian restaurant showing Mama Romano flipping pizza dough as high as the ceiling and never missing on the rebound. Although Enrico spends much time on big game hunting and at race tracks (hot rods), he's always on hand at his Pacifica restaurant to blend your favorite cocktails during the evening.

You would be so right if you thought you noticed Shelley Winters dining at Scotty Campbell's, last week. Shelley and Theresa Urban, petite co-owner of this Redwood City restaurant, had quite a reunion. This is truly the "house of hospitality" — from the hat check room, which is in the charge of Theresa and sister Mary Lou's mother, to the final good night and thank you as you leave the dining room.

Dinners to Remember - Here's Food for the Gourmets

All human history attests. That happiness for man - the hungry sinner! - Since Eve ate apples, much depends on dinner.

—Lord Byron
There are just about as many kinds of dinners as opinions about how many angels can dance on the head of a pin. There's the quick dinner that bridges busy day and busy night, there's the simple meal with small children - and there's the superb dinner that evokes delight long after the event.

The cook with her heart in the kitchen knows that the one indispensable element to a fine meal is fine flavor. She seasons her food with care - she tastes and considers. For such cooks, ac-cent is a must. The convivial substance goes into just about the whole range of non-sweet foods. It makes beef taste "beefier," brings out all the wonderful flavor of chicken - and wakes up all the garden-fresh flavor nature put in vegetables.

Sour cream is another favorite with fine cooks, and the Memorable Menus that follow all make use of sour cream sauces. The first dinner stars Beef Stroganoff, the classic dish made with mushrooms and onions. If you blend flour into the pan juices and then blend flour with the sour cream before adding it to the pan, you will be assured of a smooth, velvety sauce.

The Swiss Cheese Nutmeg Potatoes are perfection with the beef. Ac-cent always does great things for potatoes. And since you begin with instant whipped potato flakes, the dish is a snap. Combine the flakes with pasteurized process Swiss cheese for an incomparably different potato treat. These Swiss cheese

Chicken Jerusalem arrives for the second spectacular menu. It combines the bird with artichoke hearts and mushrooms in a sour cream sauce laced with sherry. And there's more. The third Memorable Menu offers a really sensational veal curry, lively with the taste of apple, onion, green pepper, and exotic spices from afar. The sour cream adds just the right suave note to the sauce and complements the spices to perfection.

Next time you have guests to dinner or want to make a beautiful meal just for your nearest and dearest at home, do try one of these flavorful menus. Any one is a meal to remember. slices dress up many another potato dish, too, as well as a variety of salads and sandwiches.

Blue Cheese Joins Salad

A piquant tasting salad made with sections of grapefruit (alternate pink and white if both are available) topped with a generous amount of crumbled blue cheese and served with lightly whipped dairy sour cream or a simple oil and vinegar dressing is highly favored by men.

Peaks of pastel-colored ice cream contrasted against golden-brown cookie cups — what a wonderful dessert to match the mood of that first warm weather party. And so good to eat, too — cups and all!

To help the hostess stay cool and calm, home economists suggest making the cookie baskets ahead, filling, then freezing them.

Serve on a big tray garlanded with flowers.

ICE CREAM IN BASKETS
1-3 cup maple syrup

¾ cup butter
¾ cup sifted flour
3 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 quart ice cream

Heat maple syrup to boiling point. Add butter; stir until melted. Remove from heat. Stir in flour, sugar and vanilla. Drop by tablespoonfuls on a well-

Add extra good flavor and good nutrition to the peanut butter sandwich by spreading honey on one-half the buttered bread.

greased baking sheet about 4-inches apart. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven. Allow to cool only one minute.

Carefully remove each cookie with wide spatula. Place on inverted custard cup; pinch four corners to shape into basket. Cool. Remove from custard cup. (If cookies become too hard to shape, return to oven for a few seconds.) Fill each basket with spoonfuls of your favorite flavor ice cream.

Corn-Stuffed Tomatoes Dish

Special cultivation, handpicking, and careful processing produce vegetables of the finest variety. You can now find them conveniently packaged in the frozen food section of your local market.

The frozen vegetables line includes sweet white corn, tender tiny peas, whole mushrooms, baby Brussels sprouts fancy whole green beans, artichoke hearts, and baby broccoli spears. Ideal as accompaniments to any meat, they also make a memorable vegetable plate. The peas and mushrooms are prepared as directed; the corn is seasoned and stuffed into ripe tomatoes.

CORN STUFFED TOMATOES

5 or 6 ripe tomatoes
1 teaspoon onion salt
½ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter
1 package (10 oz.) frozen de luxe sweet white corn
¼ teaspoon rosemary
¼ cup bread croutons
3 tablespoons grated cheese

Trim stem ends from tomatoes. Scoop out pulp, leaving about one-quarter-inch shell. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with half-teaspoon onion salt and the pepper. Place about half-teaspoon butter in each tomato. Set in baking dish; bake at 375 degrees about 15 minutes. Cook corn as directed on package, adding remaining half-teaspoon onion salt and the rosemary before simmering. Remove tomatoes from oven; spoon in corn. Top each with some croutons and cheese. Continue to bake until croutons are lightly browned — about five more minutes.

Makes five to six servings.

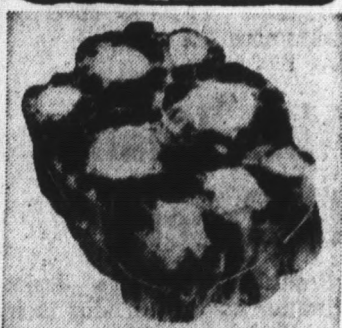

Try Pleasant Rum Mousse For Guests

A pleasant menu for several couples.

Baked Chicken
Parmesan Noodles

Salad Bowl
New Rum Mousse
Beverage

NEW RUM MOUSSE
½ cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup each sugar, dark molasses and light 80-proof rum
½ cup milk
½ pint container heavy cream

In a round-bottom metal mixing bowl or similar double-boiler top sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water and allow to soften for about 5 minutes. Over very low heat, with a rubber or wooden spatula, stir constantly until gelatin dissolves — about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in molasses and rum, then milk. Chill, stirring several times, until slightly thickened. Whip cream until it holds soft peaks and fold into gelatin mixture, beating gently if necessary to combine. Turn into a 1-quart mold; chill until firm; unmold. Makes 6 servings. If you want the molasses and rum flavors to blend so the former is hardly distinguishable, chill dessert overnight before unmolding and serving.)

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Beef oxtails, sometimes called oxtails.

Q. Where do they come from? How are they identified?
A. They are cut from the beef tail and are identified by their almost round shape, with a round bone or cartilage in the center, surrounded by lean. Several are usually tied in a bundle and are seen in this way at the meat market. They are not to be confused with beef cross-cut shanks which are much larger.

Q. How are they prepared?
A. They are prepared by braising or simmering in liquid (water). They are often braised with vegetables or simmered for soup or stew. The skin around the joints should not be removed. Brown the meat slowly on all sides. Add about ¼ cup water for braising or cover with water for stew or soup. Cover tightly and cook slowly approximately three hours or until meat is tender. Vegetables are added to the meat just long enough before the end of cooking time for them to become tender.

Company Stew Makes the Scene

French-style stew has become company fare. Fancied up with mushrooms and a little wine, it's met with at many a supper party. How is it made? The following recipe is one answer.

What to serve with the stew? Some party-givers offer no other accompaniment than lots of hot crisp French bread — spread, perhaps, with garlic butter. Others offer the bread plus rice or noodles.

And for fresh flavor and texture contrast, a big tossed salad is usually on hand.

With or after the salad may come several varieties of cheese — to be eaten with the French bread. Never crackers on this menu!

For dessert, anything goes. A fruit compote; a handsome ice cream cake; a lemon puff pie. And coffee; of course. Lots of it — hot, strong and full-bodied.

COMPANY BEEF STEW

1/4 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 pounds bottom round steak, cut in 1-inch cubes
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) beef consommé
2 tablespoons instant minced onion

1/2 bay leaf
1/4 teaspoon crumbled dry herb mixture
1/4 teaspoon savory
1/4 cup sliced celery
1/2 pound thinly sliced fresh mushrooms
1/4 cup dry red wine

On wax paper stir together the flour, salt and pepper; roll beef in 2 tablespoons of the mixture; reserve the remaining seasoned flour.

In a Dutch oven, heat the oil and brown beef in it. Add 1 cup water, consommé, onion, bay leaf, herb mixture and savory. Cover; simmer until beef is very tender — about 1 1/2 hours; if necessary to keep meat from sticking, add water, but as little as possible — no more than 1/4 cup at one time.

Stir together the reserved seasoned flour with 2 tablespoons water, keeping smooth; add to stew and stir constantly until gravy thickens. Add celery, mushrooms and wine. Cover and cook gently for about 15 minutes. If gravy is thicker than you like, stir in water (1/4 cup at a time) and reheat. Even if water is added, it will probably not be necessary to correct the seasoning. Makes 6 servings.

Thin, Crisp Oatmeal For The Jar

One of the thinnest and crispiest oatmeal cookies you can bake!

Shrimp Newburg with Rice and Green Peas
Said Bowl Cloverleaf Rolls
Fruit Cup Oatmeal Wafers

OATMEAL WAFERS
1-3 cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon undiluted evaporated milk
1 1/4 cups quick-cooking rolled oats

In a medium bowl, thoroughly cream the butter, sugar, salt and vanilla. Stir in the evaporated milk, then the oats, mixing well. Drop by level teaspoonfuls, about 3 inches apart, onto ungreased cookie sheets. (You can bake 12 cookies on one large sheet.) With palm of hand, flatten into thin (about 1/8-inch) rounds. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until cookies spread and brown — 8 to 10 minutes. Allow to cool on pan for about a minute or just until firm enough to lift, with a wide spatula, to wire rack; work quickly. Makes about 4 dozen.

An Easy Way To Prepare Applesauce

An easy method for turning out delicious applesauce. Roast Pork Oven Potatoes Broccoli Rosy Applesauce Caramel Custard Beverage

ROSY APPLESAUCE
3-pound bag small red-skinned apples such as Winesap, washed
1/2 cup water
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
Quarter apples without peeling or coring, but remove blossom ends and stems. Into a large kettle turn the apples, water and salt. Cover and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until apples are soft — 15 to 20 minutes. Spoon apples, including any liquid in kettle, one-third at a time, into food mill placed over a large bowl. Strain; stir in the sugar. Cool; refrigerate tightly covered. Makes about 1 1/4 quarts.

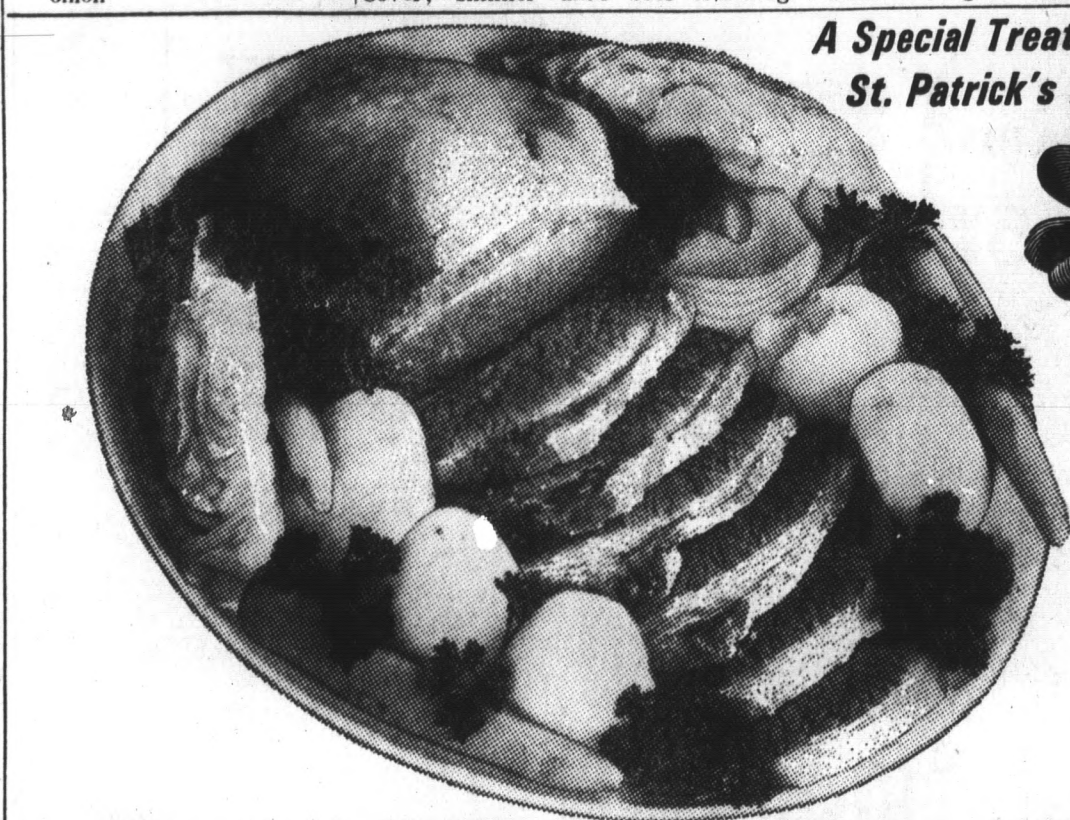

Milk Change Is Recent

Prehistoric carvings depict primitive farmers milking their cows. In 100 years, the nature of dairying has changed more than in the preceding 7,000 years. Three short generations ago milk was supposed to sour in a few hours anyway and the bulk of it was used for cooking. The only processing plant was a cheese factory.

Sanitary conditions were such that it would have taken a few lifetimes for the average milk farmer to have served out his sentences incurred in a single week under modern regulations; those of our local milk shed, for example.

In 1884, the government at Washington set up a Bureau of Animal Industry. The first consumer interest in the sources of milk was a health interest.

In California, today's pampered milk producers live out their well-fed and secure lives in sanitary housing surrounded by highly skilled and responsible workers, scientific equipment, milk machines that do most of the work, strict regulations backed by continuous research in all phases of production and distribution. Our benign bovines reward us with milk in abundance; our dairy industry with a galaxy of fine products.

Blue Cheese Joins Salad

A piquant tasting salad made with sections of grapefruit (alternate pink and white if both are available) topped with a generous amount of crumbled blue cheese and served with lightly whipped dairy sour cream or a simple oil and vinegar dressing is highly favored by men.

Ice Cream Set in Cookies

Peaks of pastel-colored ice cream contrasted against golden-brown cookie cups — what a wonderful dessert to match the mood of that first warm weather party. And so good to eat, too — cups and all!

To help the hostess stay cool and calm, home economists suggest making the cookie baskets ahead, filling, then freezing them.

Serve on a big tray garlanded with flowers.

ICE CREAM IN BASKETS
1-3 cup maple syrup

1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup sifted flour
3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 quart ice cream

Heat maple syrup to boiling point. Add butter; stir until melted. Remove from heat. Stir in flour, sugar and vanilla. Drop by tablespoonsfuls on a well-greased baking sheet about 4-inches apart. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) about 15 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven. Allow to cool only one minute.

Add extra good flavor and good nutrition to the peanut butter sandwich by spreading honey on one-half the buttered bread.

Carefully remove each cookie with wide spatula. Place on inverted custard cup; pinch four corners to shape into basket. Cool. Remove from custard cup. (If cookies become too hard to shape, return to oven for a few seconds.) Fill each basket with spoonfuls of your favorite flavor ice cream.

Corn-Stuffed Tomatoes Dish

Special cultivation, handpicking, and careful processing produce vegetables of the finest variety. You can now find them conveniently packaged in the frozen food section of your local market.

The frozen vegetables line includes sweet white corn, tender tiny peas, whole mushrooms, baby Brussels sprouts fancy whole green beans, artichoke hearts, and baby broccolli spears.

Ideal as accompaniments to any meat, they also make a memorable vegetable plate. The peas and mushrooms are prepared as directed; the corn is seasoned and stuffed into ripe tomatoes.

CORN STUFFED TOMATOES

5 or 6 ripe tomatoes
1 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter
1 package (10 oz.) frozen de luxe sweet white corn
1/4 teaspoon rosemary
1/2 cup bread croutons
3 tablespoons grated cheese
Trim stem ends from tomatoes. Scoop out pulp, leaving about one-quarter-inch shell. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with half-teaspoon onion salt and the pepper. Place about half-teaspoon butter in each tomato. Set in baking dish; bake at 375 degrees about 15 minutes. Cook corn as directed on package, adding remaining half-teaspoon onion salt and the rosemary before simmering. Remove tomatoes from oven; spoon in corn. Top each with some croutons and cheese. Continue to bake until croutons are lightly browned — about five more minutes.

Makes five to six servings.

NEW RUM MOUSSE
1/2 cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup each sugar, dark molasses and light 80-proof rum
1/2 cup milk
1/2 pint container heavy cream

In a round-bottom metal mixing bowl or similar double-boiler top sprinkle the gelatin over the cold water and allow to soften for about 5 minutes. Over very low heat, with a rubber or wooden spatula, stir constantly until gelatin dissolves — about 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add sugar and stir until dissolved. Stir in molasses and rum, then milk. Chill, stirring several times, until slightly thickened. Whip cream until it holds soft peaks and fold into gelatin mixture, heating gently if necessary to combine. Turn into a 1-quart mold; chill until firm; unmold. Makes 6 servings. If you want the molasses and rum flavors to blend so the former is hardly distinguishable, chill dessert overnight before unmolding and serving.)

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef oxtails, sometimes called oxtails.

Q. Where do they come from?

A. They are cut from the beef tail and are identified by their almost round shape, with a round bone or cartilage in the center, surrounded by lean. Several are usually tied in a bundle and are seen in this way at the meat market. They are not to be confused with beef cross-cut shanks which are much larger.

Q. How are they prepared?

A. They are prepared by braising or simmering in liquid (water). They are often braised with vegetables or simmered for soup or stew. The skin around the joints should not be removed. Brown the meat slowly on all sides. Add about 1/2 cup water for braising or cover with water for stew or soup. Cover tightly and cook slowly approximately three hours or until meat is tender. Vegetables are added to the meat just long enough before the end of cooking time for them to become tender.

Today, we still look forward to a fruitful exchange of culinary ideas between East and West, and to many exciting combinations of food like these tender Spareribs Cantonese, from the new Better Homes and Gardens So Good With Fruit cook book — on sale March 15. The zesty orange flavor, matched with Oriental ginger and soy, is sure to please the palate of the most discriminating gourmet. This is only one of over 400 delicious fruit-accented dishes you will discover in So Good With Fruit, which also features sparkling, full-color photographs of many recipes.

SPARERIBS CANTONESE

4 pounds spareribs, cut in serving pieces
1/2 cup soy sauce

DOUGLAS BUSH

MONTE DAYTON

Post Names Two For Promotions

Two major executive promotions for the Amplett Printing Company, publishers of The Times, the weekly San Mateo Post, and the weekly Post for the Westlake and North San Mateo County area, and operators of The Times commercial printing division, were announced today by J. Hart Clinton, president of the company.

Monte Dayton, formerly operations manager of the North County Post and promotion manager for the company, has been promoted to the new post of Advertising and Promotion Director. Douglas Bush, formerly retail advertising manager, will move into the position of North County Operations Manager.

Dayton, who lives with his wife, Patricia, and three children, at 324 Abbott Avenue, Daly City, has been with the company since 1962. A journalism graduate of San Jose State College, his experience includes having been general manager of Territorial Enterprises at Virginia City, Nev., and city editor and advertising manager of the Marchbanks Publications at Daly City. He is a member of the Daly City Rotary Club and a past president of the Daly City Toastmasters' Club. He has also been active in affairs of the Lake Merced Boy Scout District.

Douglas Bush has been with The Times since 1951, and previous to that, was with the Idaho Falls Post-Register. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho and served in the U.S. Navy from 1943-46. He became retail advertising manager of The Times in 1962 and is currently president of the California Newspaper Advertising Executives Association, North. With his wife and three children, he lives at 1820 Broadway, Burlingame.

Harold A. Schlotzhauer, general manager of The Times, states that the new promotion are part of an executive reorganization required by growth of The Times and other components of the Amplett Printing Company.

Daly City Man Gets Industry Recognition

Robert M. Hansen, Daly City representative, was honored this week by Bankers' Life Nebraska on his tenth anniversary with the company.

Hansen has provided more than $2 million of insurance protection to clients in this area. Currently a member of the company's 500 Club, he attended company biennial sales leaders' seminars in 1961 and 1965. Hansen is the recipient of a National Quality Award, which is presented annually by the National Association of Life Underwriters to those individuals who provide quality insurance protection to their policyowners. Hansen and his family make their home in Daly City.

In recognition of his tenth anniversary, Hansen was presented with a handsome anniversary ring by San Francisco General Agent James W. Conley.

RICHARD D. MILLS

Banker Is Promoted

Richard D. Mills of South San Francisco, has been named manager of Bank of America's new El Camino-San Bruno branch.

In announcing the promotion today, President R. A. Peterson said the branch would open in early April.

A native of Marengo, Mich., Mills will celebrate his twentieth anniversary with the bank in November. He worked in several San Francisco branches before transferring to the San Bruno branch in 1959. He had been a lending officer at the Westlake branch since 1961.

A veteran of two tours of duty with the Navy, Mills is treasurer of the San Mateo County Heart Association and of the Westlake Merchants Association.

Girl's 'Bad Trip'

A 17-year-old Daly City girl went on a "bad trip" last Friday and tried to kill her mother and 2-year-old brother.

According to police, the school girl apparently obtained some LSD pills early in the evening and "went on a bad trip."

The girl said she was unable to recall anything after leaving a friend's home at 7 p.m.

Arriving home a few minutes later, the girl started throwing things around the home. When her mother attempted to call police, the teen-ager grabbed the phone away from her mother and tore it from the wall.

She next knocked her mother down a flight of stairs in the home and when the woman tried to climb back upstairs, the girl picked up her 2-year-old brother and threatened to "throw him down the stairs."

The mother finally talked the girl out of harming the small child and managed to climb back upstairs when her daughter went into a bedroom.

Taking her two other children to a nearby neighbor's home, the mother summoned the police to the scene.

Police arrived shortly after 11 p.m. and took the girl to San Mateo County General Hospital for observation. She was later transferred to Hillcrest Juvenile Home.

A department spokesman said police are still investigating the matter in an effort to find out where the teen-ager obtained the illegal pills.

Cap Senior's Art Impresses

Dr. Fred C. Adams, principal at Capuchino High School, received notification this week that Karen DeAntoni, Cap senior, had placed second in the Hallmark Art Contest for high school seniors.

Karen's painting was sponsored by the South San Mateo Women's Club. Over 50 paintings were submitted by seniors throughout the Peninsula. The painting which won the award was a still life done in oil on masonite, and was painted as Karen's first project in her third-year art class. Karen is now in her fourth year of art at Capuchino.

Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile DeAntoni, 1620 Hickory Avenue, San Bruno, will receive her award at the South San Mateo Women's Club luncheon on Tuesday, March 14.

CSF Honors High School Students

The honor of becoming a CSF (California Scholarship Federation) life member was bestowed upon 17 westmoor High School seniors at a recent CSF meeting.

The students are Nancy Barile, Joe Buckley, Marilyn Cummings, Angela deCunha, Muriel Friedman, Ginger Giammona, Nancy Granucci, Chuck Johnston, Feresita Knight, Barbara Krow, Kathleen McGenty, Bridget Tetzner, Richard Thill, Virginia Theuner, Richard Tosteti, Bill Villalon, and Susan Walsh.

A ten-point grade average for four of the last six semesters, one of which must be in the senior year, determines those qualified for life membership.

Life members are eligible for special scholarships made available at some colleges and universities. They are honored with the CSF gold seal on their diplomas and on their high school transcripts. They also wear a gold corn on their gowns at graduation exercises. At the recent CSF meeting, each new life member received his CSF gold pin.

Seven additional students are still eligible for CSF life membership depending on their spring semester grades. They include Michael Barsotti, Donald Gehre, Steve Levinson, Helen Lichtman, Gerald Marshall, George Perry, and Sherry Shields.

The recent meeting also decided CSF officers for the spring semester. Winning their position were seniors, Rich Tosteti, president; Teresita Knight, vice president; and Sue Walsh, secretary-treasurer.

The ten points needed for membership are accumulated by adding three points for each A and one point for each B on the semester report card. The adviser may also give one additional point for athletic achievement, for holding a class office, or for some other service the student has given to the school. This year's advisors are Miss Jennie Gates, math instructor, and John Milton, a language teacher.

IN PLAY

Tom Holmberg of San Bruno was one of a cast of four students who stated "Waiting for Godot," at the College of San Mateo last Friday through Sunday.

Lenten Series Is Continuing

Interpersonal communication relationships will be discussed in another open meeting at St. Martin's Episcopal Church at 8 p.m. today in the undercroft after the regular service at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. George A. S. Hollywood will preside and open the discussion.

This is a continuation of a Lenten series entitled the "Meaning of Persons."

The young people's confirmation class of St. Martin's will be given a final review test on March 18 in preparation for their confirmation at 4 p.m. March 19 at St. Martin's by the Rt. Rev. G. R. Millard.

This will be part of a Holy Communion service presided over by Bishop Millard.

The regular morning Palm Sunday services will be held at 8 and 10 a.m.

S.S.F. Station Burglarized

Bob and Pete's service station at 998 El Camino Real was burglarized between 1:45 p.m. Sunday and 12:09 a.m. today. The burglars took $120 worth of new tires from the South San Francisco station.

Army Attempting To Improve Cook

As if the U.S. Army didn't already have enough fights on its hands, it has tackled the impossible task of improving the food served in its mess halls. As any ex-GI is well aware, there is ample room for improvement. The trouble is the system which produces cooks and kitchen help.

Invariably, the men who produce the food for servicemen wanted to be something else. They became cooks because no one else wanted the job and they probably didn't do too well in their initial assignments.

At last the Pentagon has decided it is time the men it calls cooks learn how to. The battle plan, or at least as much of it as is not being withheld from the enemy, is to attack with lessons in French cooking. Army cooks will begin serving eight-week apprenticeships under the tutelage of some of the nation's most famous chefs. "We're trying to change the historical image," commented M. Sgt. Carlton Brown of the Pentagon, in one of the military's most overdone announcements. "The amazing thing has been what an Army cook can do to make mother's basic cooking ingredients look like salvage from a garbage can."

"We're not particularly interested that they learn to cook filets," continued the sergeant. "They don't serve a type of New York cut beef and we want them to know how to make it palatable — less like something to sole shoes with."

One of the chefs, Joseph F. Schafers of the Washington Hilton kitchens, has occasion to observe an Army kitchen in action. His reaction?

"From a professional standpoint it was disaster," he said. "If all that had happened in my kitchen, I'd have blown it up." Many a serviceman has expressed similar sentiments.

Curran Suspense

Barbara Bladen

MELODRAMAS ARE NORMALLY associated with Victorian tear jerkers. "Wait Until Dark," which opened at the Curran Theater last week is a modern counterpart, just as implausible, equally colorful and as luridly suspenseful as any James Bond adventure.

As a cliffhanger, it isn't half bad. That is if you like your murder mysteries detailed and your heroines capable of out-conning three professional con-artists. Like a house of cards, the Frederick Knott drama builds slowly but securely, gimmick by gimmick, until the plot is overly detailed, one forgets the trickery involved and falls into the emotionalism of the piece. It doesn't take long when we realize the endangered wife of an absent photographer is blind.

What would the play be without the props. Nothing, I assure you. We're treated (or bored, as you like) to interminable signals with the window blinds, phones ringing menacingly on cue, lights being turned on and off, doors opening slowly to reveal one or more of the three villains, and furniture obstructing our leading lady's course of escape.

That they all function so smoothly is much of the play's success. Both the light and sound cues and the suspense is lost. It hangs on that thin a thread.

But while the play is contrived, it does build to a neat, if bloody, climax. One guaranteed to elicit loud screams from a tense audience. I'd seen the play already in New York with Lee Remick in the lead role and yet found myself screaming at the unexpected ending with the rest of the overwrought observers.

THE INGENIOUS SITUATIONS of a young blind housewife being terrorized by a trio of desperate criminals looking for a doll stuffed with $50,000 worth of heroin more than compensates for the improbabilities. Her sensitivity to sound and touch aids her in outwitting them but the stage is an arena for bribery, blackmail, assault and murder before the final curtain falls.

Before that moment arrives, we've been subjected to switch blade knives, gasoline splashed about the Greenwich Village apartment setting and ammonia thrown into a character's eyes. Add to that a sadist whose very tone of voice sent women scurrying up the aisle during the second act and you'll conclude its impact. If the author left anything out, it could only be tying the heroine to the railroad tracks to face the oncoming train.

Shirley Jones' blind woman is convincing enough if she tones it down. She gains immediate sympathy by falling all over the furniture, screaming at the top of her hysterical voice with no one to rescue her and generating such pent-up emotion we are chewing on cuticles and tensing in our seats. I'd prefer it if she didn't throw herself so violently against the walls.

Unfortunately, director Porter Van Zandt, who restaged the play from Arthur Penn's original concept, has let the actors get out of hand. The result is hysterical overacting.

JACK CASSIDY AS THE BLOOD-CHILLING sadist who eliminates three accomplices with skill and dispatch is versatile and menacing through a series of disguises and accents. It's a virtuoso role that is demanding. He deserves the "goodie" award for the "baddie" of the season.

Excellent support is accorded by Harris Yulin and Val Bisoglio as the ex-convicts looking for easy money yet involved in a scheme beyond their depth. Michael Ebert plays a brief straightman role as the missing husband. Sheryl Mandel as the precocious next-door youngster was seen but not heard. Most of her lines are vital to the action but few were able to understand what she said. That's carrying breathlessness too far.

ONE ARTIST TO ANOTHER — W. Leonard Beck, of 932 Southgate Avenue, Daly City, admires some of the oil paintings he has acquired from Mexico City artist Leonardo Nierman, a former physicist and mathematician. Beck said Nierman's studies of "Cosmic Phenomena" have aided the young artist in creating his works. The local music instructor recently returned from a visit to Nierman's studios in Mexico. Doelger Recalls Mother's Vision

Frank LaPierre

MOTHER KNOWS BEST — Back a goodly number of years ago (in 1912) Henry Doelger's mother wisely predicted that one day the coastside would be "the coming area" and San Francisco's population would spill over and settle along the picturesque shoreline.

She offered her young son some lots — enough to get him interested in the area — but Henry scoffed at the predictions and turned the offer down in favor of more "realistic" ventures closer to San Francisco.

The years rolled by and Henry slowly became a "believer" in the Coastside acreage, steadily buying up lots all along the shoreline — including those his mother had offered him some fifty years before.

THE MORAL OF THIS STORY, as multi-millionaire Henry Doelger has since realized is: An ounce of parental intuition is worth pounds of realistic youthful thinking.

CLOSE THE DOOR — The Shadow claims three Jefferson Elementary School District trustees met with superintendent Frank Greenwood for 15 minutes behind closed doors prior to the regularly scheduled Board meeting last week. What the topic of the secret meet (which was not denied by Greenwood) was still a mystery. But shortly after trustees O. Wayne Douglas, Thomas Noonan and chairman George Perry took their seats, Noonan made his now-famous motion to stop all conference attendance by trustees pending action by the State Legislature.

DATEBOOK JOTTINGS — Daly City will honor employees who have rendered many years of service to the community at a dinner in the War Memorial Building on March 21 (that's a Tuesday night, son) ... The Hillside Homeowners Improvement Association's installation dinner at the Golden Pavilion restaurant in Chinatown (San Francisco) last Saturday was a real shindig. D. C. Mayor Bud Lyett was guest speaker and installing officer. The food was delicious, the new officers looked eager, the outgoing officers tired and the introductions boring.

BLACK BART — More than half of BART's 75 miles of rapid transit system is now under construction, with the contract figure topping $300 million. While the district's schedule calls for some East Bay lines to be in operation by mid-1968, Daly City fathers still haven't got the foggiest what the local station will look like — or maybe BART doesn't want them to know???

IF YOU'RE GOING to have grade crossing at least make them smooth, is the basis of a letter sent to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company by D.C. engineer Art Reschke last week. The engineer asked SP to smooth out the bumps at the School Street crossing because "the rails are below the pavement."

THE HOUSING SLUMP has apparently affected the D.C. Planning Commission — they have cut down their bi-weekly meetings to once-a-month.

FLASHY FLASH — The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce is still talking about sending the local beauty contest winner back to represent that city in the upcoming Miss America pageant. Why not? A young Milpitas girl grabbed the Miss Teen-age America title last year, and didn't Miss D.C. walk off with the Miss Fiesta honors?

DON'T SAY NO before you know, is the advice of San Bruno chamber manager Dick King. The energetic King thinks the world has too many people protesting and not enough persons out supporting various measures — like the Pacific Air Commerce Center, for instance.

King: "I like wildlife, but we've got to start thinking about human beings in this world too. I am for it (PACC) ... with certain modifications it's a good thing for the area. You can't snub a $150 million development by responsible people who have the know-how and means to follow this thing through, without giving it a fair listen. But there are many who shout 'not for us' without this hearing."

Becks Recall 'Our Latest Adventure'

By FRANK LAPIERRE

A talented Daly City couple who have devoted much of their lives to music appreciation, recently stumbled onto what they like to call "our latest adventure."

Both W. Leonard Beck and his wife, Jina, have been interested in art for many years ("since I was a child") and recently discovered what they feel is a "real find."

During a trip to San Francisco two years ago, the couple visited an art exhibit at Brooks Hall where an upcoming Mexican painter — Leonardo Nierman — was displaying some of his works.

What made the exhibit interesting was the fact that Nierman, although having showed a creative talent in oil painting since his youth, was an established mathematician and physicist.

His studies of the psychology of colors and the harmony of form in space — both static and dynamic — have contributed greatly to his successful use of oils in his works, according to Beck.

"Nierman has something to offer art enthusiasts, especially in his treatment of space and color," Beck explained. "The first time we saw this artist's work we knew this man would someday be great — and we made up our mind to visit him in Mexico City."

The Becks packed their suitcases last summer and ventured to Mexico for a visit with the fast-rising young artist.

"It was certainly the most thrilling day of my life — to visit Nierman's studio and see so many of his fabulous paintings," Beck said.

Nierman's artistic rise is almost as phenomenal as the colors he puts on canvas.

In 1951 he received his bachelor's degree in physics and mathematics from the University of Mexico.

The young artist claims his studies were instrumental in shaping his vision of a non-objective interpreter of nature and in so doing launched him on a search for the relationship between abstract art and what Nierman calls "Cosmic Phenomena."

This, in a nutshell, is what Nierman's paintings are all about — cosmic phenomena.

Many of Nierman's paintings are already on display at museums and educational facilities throughout Mexico, plus several galleries in the U.S.

Beck said, "I am fortunate to have some of this artist's works, acquired during my visit to Mexico last year."

During the past ten years, Nierman has exhibited his paintings in more than 100 group and one-man shows around the world.

"Everyone who sees this man's oils praises him," Beck said, adding, "both my wife and I are already anxious to return to Mexico City this summer to see what his latest creations are."

Man's Inhumanity To Man Is Shown

Samuel Chandler

Margaret Walker's "Jubilee" is a story in the tradition of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Strange Fruit." It's romantic, it's beautiful, it's horrible; with page after page showing man's inhumanity to man.

It is a long, absorbing story of life on a Georgia plantation before and after the Civil War. Vyry, the heroine, was born of mixed parentage, a slave to her own father. As she grew up, he spared her nothing — at his behest she tasted the overseer's lash; the vengeance of her father's wife, and slavery to her half sister whom she resembled.

YET her father could not forget that Vyry was his child. He would not sell her, although she begged him to; he would not liberate her to marry the free man who was the father of her children.

History comes alive as he passes from slavery to the bitter years of the Civil War and the reconstruction period. The book ends leaving her nothing. The war engineered the loss of her husband to another woman.

The reconstruction left her in a hovel with children — part white; part black — to raise. Only a dream makes life tolerable. With this dream she wins and the readers dry their tears knowing that tomorrow can be better than yesterday.

Vyry was a real person, the great-granddaughter of the author. This is her story — dramatic, authentic; told from the point of view of a descendant who shares her dream of equal opportunity for all Americans.

VYRY earned Miss Walker a Houghton-Mifflin Literary Award, as well as a bushel of roses from some readers and a truckful of bricks from others. The Christian Science Monitor called it a good book, in the dual sense of the word. The National Review called its dialects fakes and said it was about a place and a people who never existed. Writing in The Saturday Review, however, Abraham Chapman found the story and color of the musical speech transcending the stilted prose of the narrator.

In writing "Jubilee" Margaret Walker found herself in a position experienced by many who have tried to write about their cultural heritage in an objective manner.

It is nearly impossible; authors are among the world's most sensitive people. Often they live in a sort of visionary world. They feel right and wrong like the ancient prophets. Often they see more beauty than other men and are more incensed by ugliness than the people about them.

THROUGHOUT history many writers have forsaken objectivity. With no apologies they make stories that express their inner convictions, beliefs, dreams, or ideals.

The creators of movie and TV scripts use subjectivity more than any other class of writers. Their stories center around one or two individuals and draw out their thoughts, their motives, and make them seem right and true. If the viewer is filled with the character's unique feeling the author has succeeded.

The object of the subjective writer has been a mply expressed by a man who said that he wrote so his thoughts would appear to the reader like the garments of God.

'Only Apprehension Can Stop Swindler'

Lorene Beasley

No law, city, state or federal, can stop a swindler until he is apprehended!

Old schemes are dug up with the regularity of the seasons and given a new look.

Banks, finance and loan companies seem to be the main target of swindlers this spring.

The office of J. Edgar Hoover recently issued a warning to all Better Business Bureaus concerning a swindle currently operating throughout the United States against Savings and Loan and Building and Loan Institutions.

THE SWINDLE operated by well dressed and smooth talking male and female teams, using stolen or counterfeit checks on industries or private companies, is described as follows:

"The gang obtains information from mortgage records maintained in the county courthouse, including the amount of the original monthly payment, and the name of the institution holding the mortgage.

With this information, a counterfeit check or a check previously stolen from a legitimate company, is prepared in the name of the mortgagee in an amount greater than the mortgage payment, usually from $300 to $1,000.

A member of the gang then takes this check to the institution holding the loan and, pretending to be a friend or relative of the mortgagee, presents the check for one or more mortgage payments and receives the difference of several hundred dollars in cash."

ANOTHER slick swindle which has bilked banks and merchants out of thousands of dollars works this way: The confidence pair moves into a room to establish a mailing address.

After the female partner secures a one-telephone-operator position through the local Want-Ads, the male accomplice applies for a relatively small loan, $500 to $1,000 at the local bank or finance company. The firm where his partner is now working as telephone operator is given as his employer.

When the telephone check on the reference data comes through, she pretends to switch the call to the executive or personnel department and, modifying her voice, confirms the false statements.

The same phony reference scheme has been used to secure loan credit cards.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU warns that a telephone check to an applicant's alleged employer is not always adequate investigation when making loans or extending credit.

DOUGHNUT HOLES are long gone from these samples as shown by Mrs. Richard Silver (left), and Mrs. Charles Wester, chairman of the Westlake Catholic Women's March 19 Doughnut Sale. Hunt's Donut Shop, 210 Skyline Plaza, Daly City, will be the place to go to get wide assortment of doughnuts "to take out." Refreshments will be served by the women of the parish 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Proceeds of the sale will go toward the Our Lady of Mercy school building fund.
